Church Activities Marsh Resigns As Police Officer For Scottsville

The November meeting of the Annie Bell Circle met at the home of Mrs. Ragland Daniel. Mrs. L. L. Armistead was in charge of the program on Foreign Missions and was assisted by Miss Helen Beal, Mrs. George Omohundro, Jr., and Miss Hazel Proffitt. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

The Lottie Moon Circle met this month at the home of Mrs. Wilson Dansey, and Mrs. Dansey was in charge of the program which dealt with the work being done in Korea. Mrs. M. C. Duncan assisted her in the program. One new member, Mrs. Roy Hamner, was entered in the roll book. Following the meeting, refreshments were served.

The Nannie B. David Circle held its meeting at the home of Mrs. George Wheeler.

The meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service was held at the home of Mrs. John Dorrier last Thursday night, with Mrs. Gordon Dorrier leading the worship. Mrs. Donald Carroll was in charge of the program "Feeding the Modern Multitudes" with Mrs. Emil Ewoldt and Mrs. Ashby Mayo assisting. An interesting program was presented, followed by a question and answer period.

After the program, the president, Mrs. Alvin Smith, opened the business meeting. An announcement was made of a meeting of the executive committee to be held on Thursday, November 19, at 4 p. m. at the church. It was also decided that the group would make up a basket for Thanksgiving to be sent to a family. The decision of the receiving family was left up to the committee.

Plans were made to send individual Christmas cards to the displaced persons family members have been in contact with.

Mrs. David Philpot made an extensive report on the meeting with Milton Grigg, the church architect the committee on Church Improvement had called upon for help. It was decided at the end of the report and discussion that a list of the most important suggestions be made and presented to the Board of Stewards for approval. Later, means for raising the money will be decided upon.

Mrs. Ollie Clements announced that the Sunday School children had succeeded in raising $10.50 to send overseas for milk for Korean children.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served.

The Charlottesville District of the Methodist Church, will have a rally for the young people of the twenty-nine pastoral charges Sunday night, November 22 at 7:30 P.M. Gerry Speidel, District Youth Director, states in the announcement:

"The speakers will be the Reverend and Mrs. P. Lee Palmore of Japan. They will wear their Japanese costumes and will show colored slides of mission work in the land of the Rising Sun. We want to fill the sanctuary of First Methodist Church, Charlottesville at that time."

Rev. E. J. Nottingham III, pastor of the Scottsville Methodist Church, has made plans with youth leaders for a full attendance of local youth and adult leaders of youth.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

Please print the following as a news item in your paper.

We wish to thank the Scottsville Volunteer Fire Department for answering the fire call at Brems Bluff on Sunday afternoon, while we were out near Shores on another fire call.

Fluvanna Co. Fire Dept.
George W. Madison
Asst. Chief

Tom Bruce, Scottsville Mayor, read a letter of resignation from Police Sergeant Marsh at a meeting of the town council last Thursday night. Sgt. Marsh asked to be relieved of his duties as of December 31.

The letter was received with much regret by the councilmen. A motion was made that Mr. Bruce appoint two members of the council to join him in interviewing applicants for the vacancy, and to make a report either at the December meeting or at a called meeting. Mr. Bruce appointed George Omohundro and Robert Pitts to assist him in obtaining a new town policeman.

A balance of $5,488.85 was reported to be on hand on October 31 by the treasurer, Violette Beal. Receipts for the month of October were $995.58 and disbursements were $1,716.31.

The traffic problem and safety hazards at the close of school when the street is crowded with cars, buses and children was discussed. A solution to the problem was found by T. H. Gillis, school principal, and Sgt. Marsh. The buses now park in the middle of the street, traffic is stopped until they are loaded, and this has proved a satisfactory solution, they reported.

John Williamson, chairman of the finance committee, made a recommendation that the merchant licenses should be adjusted so that they are based on sales rather than purchases and run according to a calendar year instead of a fiscal year. This is the method adopted by the state in ascertaining merchant licenses, and is deemed to be a more fair method of arriving at the cost of a license. A motion was made by Robert Pitts that it be approved as a working basis for fixing the scale. Mr. Omohundro seconded the motion.

Series Of Turkey Shoots Sponsored By V.F.W.

The local V. F. W. is sponsoring a series of turkey shoots beginning this coming Saturday, November 20, and continuing until December 26, each Saturday at 2 p. m. at the post home. There will also be one on Thanksgiving Day at the same time and place.

There will be offered individual targets, with a 4"x6" card, with the participant's name and an X in the middle as the target. The card will be placed on the board, and the individual will shoot at a distance of 100 ft. Only 12 gauge shot guns will be allowed and the shells will be provided by the V. F. W. Automatic or pump guns (with poly-choke or cuts compensator) are restricted. Only open barrel guns will be permitted.

If there are enough who want it, there will be a spatter board about 2' square. Each individual will write his name and an X immediately following anywhere he desires on the board. Someone who is not participating in the chances will shoot, and the one who's X is hit most near the center will be the winner. In case none of the X's are hit, the winner will be the one who's X is nearest a shot. In case of tie, the shooting will be held again.

Chances will sell for $1.

June Apples In Nov.

Mrs. Allen Davis of near Scottsville came to the Sun office this week to bring in five June apples that had grown on a tree at her house. Despite the drought, followed by the frosts and snow of the fall, the apples matured and ripened on the tree. Mrs. Davis picked them off—they didn't fall.

Concert Presented By School Band Mrs. Larned Randolph Elected President Of Riding Club

Scottsville High School band gave a surprisingly finished performance at their debut last Wednesday night. The band members were dinner guests of the Scottsville Lions Club and presented a varied and entertaining program of musical selections under the leadership of their director, Capt. G. R. Edgerton.

Special guests present for the occasion were Albemarle County Superintendent of Schools Paul Cale, the assistant superintendent, Leslie H. Walton, Robert Maidment, S.H.S. English instructor and Edgar Bradley, former member of the Lions Club.

The band was introduced by T. H. Gillis, high school principal, who observed that on the 11th day of the 11th month he was presenting 11 boys and 11 girls who were in their 11th week of band practice. He added that $1100 had been appropriated for the band.

After hearing the concert, Donald Carroll, United States Rubber Company plant manager, offered, on behalf of the plant, to give the band a further donation of $100.

Doris Cunningham, band member, addressed the Lions and Capt. Edgerton, voicing appreciation for the opportunity of playing in a school band.

Barbara Payne, another member of the band, presented Capt. Edgerton a gift from the band.

Christmas Seal Sale Material Distributed

The annual Fall meeting of the Fluvanna County Tuberculosis Association was held last week in Palmyra, at which time Mrs. Henry Bell, Seal Sale chairman, distributed materials for the Christmas Seal Sale which begins this week. At the meeting, Mrs. Cecil Bell, President, placed special emphasis on the increased need for funds to enable the local Association to carry on the necessary work in the county.

In way of explanation as to why two sheets of seals instead of the usual one will be mailed out this year, Mrs. Bell stated that at the present time the Association is meeting the expenses of two patients receiving sanatorium care; and there are two more cases who will be admitted as soon as there are beds available.

"This is an abnormally high case load for Fluvanna County," Mrs. Bell said, "and in addition to sanatorium care, the number of tuberculosis cases who are receiving drugs at home, provided by the Association, has greatly increased during the past year."

Last year, according to Mrs. W. W. Wilson, treasurer, $279.50 was paid out for sanatorium care, $68.15 for drugs for home care, $103.50 for x-rays, plus the usual funds disbursed for education, milk for undernourished children, and incidentals.

"I believe," Mrs. Bell said, "that when the public realizes that it costs the local Association $22.25 per month to maintain one patient in a sanatorium, it will be understandable why we are asking everyone to be especially generous in their contributions this particular year." Two sheets of Christmas seals will go into the majority of envelopes being mailed this week, and Mrs. Bell expressed the hope that as many people as possible will answer this urgent request and buy the two sheets and use them.

Birth Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wesley Napier of Keene announce the birth of a son, Claude Ronald, born on November 13 at the University of Virginia Hospital.

The annual meeting of the Tri-County Riding Club was held at the parish house of St. John's Episcopal Church Tuesday night with Mrs. June Pitts Viar presiding.

The secretary, Mrs. Grady Covington, read the minutes of the previous meeting, and the regulations of the club. The minutes were approved as read. Mrs. R. V. Krouse, treasurer of the organization, gave a full report of all the financial activities for the year, including riding club breakfasts, the horse show and hunt ball. The balance in the treasury is $278.35, with $150 of that amount allocated for horse show expenses for next year.

The meeting was taken up with general policy planning. It was decided to have two parties instead of one each year. The rule of allowing one non-rider to come to the riding breakfasts with a rider was kept as it had been, with the provision that it be changed if the number of people attending the breakfasts became unmanageable.

A committee was to be appointed to study the membership requirements, and decide what the quota of the club should be, as well as for the purpose of screening new members so that the club can be kept a riding club, and not degenerate into merely a social club, with emphasis on permanent fencing and trail blazing, for opening up the country-side for good rides.

Dues were doubled, as of the club year of 1954-55, to allow the club to go on further in their work of trail blazing and other riding activities. It was also decided that the cost of the breakfasts should be increased from $.50 to $1 for adults, and 50 cents for children. It was ascertained that if it had not been for the generosity of the hosts and hostesses this past year in contributing, not only their homes, but their food for the breakfasts, that the club would have been in the red with the breakfasts at only 50 cents.

Ellis Jones presented the new slate of officers for the year, and they were voted in as follows: Mrs. Larned Randolph, president, Mrs. Gordon Dorrier, vice-president, Mrs. Grady Covington, corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. B. Mayfield, executive secretary, Mrs. R. V. Krouse, treasurer, and Mrs. Andrew Dawson, and Mrs. John P. Dorrier, hospitality chairman.

Mrs. Viar asked the new president to take over the chair after a brief word about how much she appreciated the cooperation she had received during the year, and how much she enjoyed the association she had had with each member.

Game Checking Stations In Fluvanna Listed

The law requires that all bear, deer and wild turkeys be reported and tagged at game checking stations during the coming hunting season, Wesley M. Haden, Game Warden of Fluvanna County, pointed out. Tags will be furnished only at the checking stations.

Checking stations in Fluvanna County will be established at Kirkpatrick's, Inc. Kent's Store, Fork Union Motor Co. Fork Union, Proffitt Store, Scottsville, Amos Cafe, Columbia, Simmons Service Station, Scottsville, Hashen's Store, Troy, Palmyra Service Station, Palmyra.

Main purpose of the new regulations, which are in force in most of the states, are to aid in law enforcement and as a means of making a check of the annual kill to assist in managing the various game species.

Art Exhibit Visits Fluvanna School

The first travel art exhibit visiting the Fluvanna County High School at Carysbrook this year is from the Robert Lee Gallery in Newtown, Connecticut. It is an exhibit of Japanese prints which opened Monday in the art room, and will be on display daily 1 to 3:30 P. M. through Wednesday Nov. 25th. The public is most cordially invited.

In the near future, the usual annual travel art exhibit from the Virginia Education Association Art Section will be on display in the art room. This will be a group of school children's paintings selected as the best throughout the state of Virginia.

There will be almost continuous art exhibits throughout the year in the art room of the Fluvanna County High School.

According to Mrs. Jeane Fowler Roberts, art instructor for the high school, "It is expected that the Artmobile, the newest addition to the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts of Richmond, will come to Fluvanna county sometime during the year." The Artmobile is the solution to a problem—how to let every Virginian enjoy its rarest treasures. If all Virginians can't go to the Museum, the Museum can come to the Virginians. This is an art gallery on wheels, air-conditioned, specially lit, with museum walls, burglar and fire alarm devices, and a sound system. The labels and the sound system talks will tell all about the paintings. Mr. Walter P. Chrysler, a part-time Virginian, lent 16 paintings for the first exhibition. It will be a continuous thing with new exhibitions in architecture, sculpture, landscape, decorative arts, industrial design. This is the first state wide visual arts system.

Scottsville High School News

This week in commemoration of National American Education Week, approximately 200 friends and parents visited the school.

The Flute Choir under the direction of Mrs. Pauline Mayo will give a concert on November 25 at 1:30 p.m. in the School auditorium. The Student Council will hold its first meeting on Thursday of this week. A sponsor will be elected at this meeting. One representative from each home room will comprise the Council.

The Seniors have begun practicing their play to be presented in the Victory Hall on December 10, at 8:15 p.m. The title of the play is "Women in White", a royalty play presented by special permission with Samuel French Productions, Inc.

T. A. Allison, vocational-agriculture teacher, attended the Flag Federation Meeting at Madison High School on Wednesday, November 18. The following boys took part in the activities: David Catlett, John Clements, David Clements and Milton Ferneyhough.

The photographer was here on November 16 to take the annual school pictures.

The posters, drawn by the art class for entrance in the contest Keep Virginia Green, have been mailed to the Virginia Forest Inc., Richmond.

The Scottsville High School Band gave a concert in the school auditorium on Wednesday, November 18, at 1:30 p.m. A large number of parents and friends attended.

The boys' and girls' basketball teams will have their first game on Thursday, November 19, with Arvon High. It is a practice game and is to be played in the Buckingham Central gymnasium. A second game is scheduled for

Paulett Asserts Scottsville "Sold Down River" On School

Ashby Harris, representative for this area of the county on the Board of Supervisors, spoke informally on Tuesday night at a called meeting of the executive committee of the P. T. A.

In substance, Mr. Harris stated that until the announcement in the Charlottesville paper he knew nothing of the County School Board's decision to take over the running of the school buses from Esmont and vicinity to the new Albemarle County High School. He also stated that he did not wish to criticize the action of the board in its decision, but that he was willing to aid the Scottsville cause in any way that he could.

He called on Forest Paulett, Scottsville's representative on the school board, to tell what had happened at the meeting when the decision had been made and a vote taken. Mr. Paulett answered that it was obvious that the decision had been arrived at long before the meeting had ever taken place, and that actually the Scottsville district had been sold down the river. He further explained that it was now his belief that the board had never had any intentions of improving the high school in Scottsville, but had planned a gigantic double cross all along; throughout the discussion of a bond issue for the building of the negro high school, as well as during the construction of the new Albemarle High School.

The question was raised about how the new school could take care of the entire county in a few years if the Scottsville High School would fill it to capacity now. "The solution," John Williamson, president of the P.T.A., said, "is two high schools in the county. Why not improve the building now standing, and keep our students here, rather than force the Albemarle High School either to enlarge its buildings in a matter of a very few years, or crowd its classrooms?"

Mr. Williamson also asked Mr. Harris whether he favored appropriating money to improve this school. Harris replied that he was in favor of anything that was good business. However, he would not approve extensive construction at Scottsville High School if the students were going to gradually switch over to the Albemarle School. Williamson countered with the remark that unless the school were improved, Scottsville could not hold its student body.

More general discussion followed, and it was decided that Mr. Harris will go before the School Board, provided it is legal for him to do so, and that the Scottsville P. T. A. will send a delegation to both the meetings of the School Board and the County Board of Supervisors.

Smith Attends Showing Of 1954 Chevrolet Trucks

W. J. Smith of the Smith Chevrolet Sales, Inc. has just returned from Washington where he attended a private preview of the new 1954 Chevrolet trucks.

The exhibit and accompanying business session were sponsored by the company for all retail dealers and salesmen in this area and emphasized the importance Chevrolet is attaching to its soon-to-be-announced new truck line.

"The meeting was somewhat without precedent in our experience because it was devoted exclusively to new truck models," said Mr. Smith. "The reason soon became clear. The 1954 line contains so many new features that even a review of highspots required considerable time.

Make A Kitchen Really Efficient
With Well-Planned Storage
Space

To enjoy modern equipment to the fullest, you should have plenty of easily accessible storage space close at hand for all the many utensils you use when you cook. Proper selection of cabinets and cabinet accessories add convenience to your kitchen. You can find what you want where you want it and can carry on with meal preparation with less stooping, stretching, and unnecessary steps.

In remodeling an old kitchen, compromises may have to be made. Lack of usable wall space may prevent you from installing as many cabinets as you would like. But in a new home, says the General Electric Consumers Institute, every precaution should be taken to assure adequate storage and working space.

How to Choose Cabinets

Choose cabinets of good design, sturdy construction, and a fine finish which is rust-resistant. Wire shelves in wall cabinets give visibility throughout the cabinet, making it easy to locate just what you're looking for. Because dust does not settle on wire shelves, they require less care. Adjustable shelves enable you to place things at the height most convenient for you, with no wasted space between shelves.

One secret of a really efficient kitchen lies in the proper utilization of devices called "accessories". They enable you to store materials and utensils easily and conveniently where they are usually needed, saving innumerable steps and the annoyance of hunting for a seldom-used item.

Once you have a good supply of cabinets, then go ahead and shop for accessories. You'll find that many cabinet manufacturers make their own accessories, designed for perfect coordination with the cabinets.

Here are just a few:

Mixer Shelf—Handy hinged shelf swings up from base cabinet so that mixer can be stored out of sight yet easily raised to a convenient working height.

Bread and Cake Box—Ventilated box which keeps bread fresh, fits into base cabinet drawer.

Bulk Storage Bin—Bin, installed in base cabinet drawer, has separate compartments for bulk storage of flour, meal and sugar.

Cutting Board—Fits in base cabinet drawer, flush with side rims. Can be used in drawer or removed to counter top.

Reversible Drawer and Cutting Board—Insert that replaces a top drawer of base cabinet. The lower 3-inch portion of insert is a shallow drawer; the upper a sturdy maple cutting board.

Vegetable Baskets—Ventilated baskets for the storage of vegetables which require dry storage.

Sliding Trays—Shallow drawers which fit above shelves of cupboard base cabinets providing ideally accessible storage of items you should otherwise have to reach to the back of the cabinet to find.

Cutlery Tray—Fits into drawer of base cabinet to separate knives, forks, spoons, or cooking utensils. Some available with treated felt which helps prevent silverware from tarnishing.

Towel Rack—Sliding towel rack attached to sink cabinet for handy storage of hand or dish towels.

Fluorescent Light Fixture—Installed under wall cabinets, floods work surface with soft, glare-free light, and provides convenient electrical outlets for small plug-in appliances.

Flour Sifter—Flour storage bin with built-in sifter hangs from wire shelf. Holds 10 pounds of flour. Sift out the amount you want for immediate use.

Door Condiment Rack—Handy wire rack is mounted on inside of wall cabinet door. Holds spices, extracts, or other small items.

Condiment Rack—Tiered rack of solid metal or wire, stands on bottom shelf of wall cabinet for handy storage of small bottles or boxes.

TIDBITS

Nancy Dorrier

Nobody knew it at the time, and the doors were locked and barred against intruders, but Virginia Ramsey's four adult piano students, June Pitts Viar, Shirley Dorrier, Gretchen Deines, and her mother, Eleanor Deines, had their own private recital last Tuesday afternoon. To view the quaking artists, one would have thought that they were having their Town Hall debut, and their only audience was themselves! No doubt, though, they must have done well. They say stage fright always produces a good performance!

The Dawson clan all took off in their car on Sunday and went to Altavista to spend the day with Mrs. Ward Jones, formerly of Esmont, and joined her family there for dinner. There were twenty-eight seated at one table! The get-together was in honor of Ma, the matriarch of the Dawson family. Ma is on her way out to California to spend a few months with her daughter, Margaret Swanson, who is, at present, attending the University of California at Berkeley. Won't Mrs. Dawson have a wonderful trip?

And speaking of California, the prodigals, Nancy and Art Stuerwald and their children, Lise and Chris have returned as of Sunday night from that far distant place! Until, at least, December 11, Art will be here on leave, but he hopes to have the date moved up so that he can stay until after the Christmas social season anyhow! They are, of course, staying with Lindsay and Hester Pitts, Nancy's mother and daddy, at Mountain View.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill Carter of Rolands entertained the vestry of St. Anne's parish on Thursday night following the tea given for the Rev. and Mrs. Webster Simons. The dinner was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Simons, who were here to meet the parishioners of the churches. At midday on Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Larned Randolph of North Garden entertained Mr. and Mrs. Simons, with Mr. and Mrs. Alan Pinkerton, Sam Pendleton and Mr. and Mrs. E. O. White also invited.

At the Ed Dorrier's for several days was Mrs. J. H. Clevinger of Farmville, Hazel's mother. She arrived on Saturday and stayed for several days past the week-end. Also there was Suzanne Jones, of Richmond, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Jones, formerly of Scottsville. Suzanne was here visiting Irene. They had a very good time being so grown up as to spend the night together!

At the E. O. Whites for the week-end was Alexander Rosenberg from Duke University, Durham, N. C. He came up to see Alice, who has been visiting the Whites for the past two weeks.

At home for his regular week-end visit to his mother's was Odell White. He arrived on Friday and left on Sunday.

The Jack Castiels had Virginia's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Creasy, Jr., here over the week-end.

Last Tuesday, Lindsay and Hester Pitts entertained Mr. and Mrs. Edward Melville of Paris, France, at dinner with their son, Philippe, of Charlottesville. And on Thursday, Paul McFarlane entertained them. They plan to be here until sometime in December.

Here for several days was Miss Mary Moulton visiting friends and relatives.

Little Joe Wilson was home this week-end from FUMA to see his parents, Ethel and Big Joe. He arrived on Friday, after classes and stayed until Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ripley and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Brown of Charlottesville dashed off to Richmond on Saturday to spend the day Christmas shopping. That night, they stayed over to see the Barn Dance show with Sunshine Sue.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Leonard of Old Rectory are leaving next week for a three months tour of South America. They are making it a pleasure trip to last through the winter, heading down the West coast and coming back up the East.

Mollie Powell recently spent more than a week with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Collins, in Washington.

Hank and Virginia Dalbey were here for the week-end with Virginia's mother, Mrs. Virgie Dalbey. On Sunday the day was too pretty to stay inside, so they went to Charlottesville to see Mrs. George D. Mayo, and on to Keswick and Cobham to see friends and relatives. Virginia and Hank returned to Richmond on Sunday night.

George Dansey, Jr., who has been in the hospital for five weeks this coming Sunday, is coming home on that day. He has had his leg in traction since an accident, but it will be put in a cast Friday, and X-rays taken afterward to make sure it's all right before he comes home. The cast will be up to his waist, and, of course, he will be in bed until that comes off. Mr. Dansey said that his spirits are marvelous though, and he has been able to keep up with his studies since they hire a teacher at the University Hospital to help all the children there to stay with their classes while they are unable to go to school.

Mrs. Gladys Newton went to the Martha Jefferson Hospital last Monday to have a goiter removed. She expects to come home some time this week.

Goldie Ripley, Tom Gillis' secretary, went Wednesday to the University Hospital for an unexpected appendectomy. While they were operating, they discovered a gall stone, so they removed that also.

As long as we're on the subject of hospital patients, we should take in Jack Miller, who had his ulcer removed last Monday, and is doing beautifully. They haven't mentioned to him when he can come home, so I guess they plan to be sure he's in really good shape before they let him go.

At Morrisena for the week-end to visit Mrs. Morris and John were Billy and Corbin Morris and their small daughter, Linda, from Richmond. After they left, the Morrises were still deluged with local company. The Carl Faulconers, Mrs. E. R. Snead, Frances Morris and her guest, Mary Philpot, here from Hogansville Ga. were also up there.

Speaking of Mary, though, I should take an entire new paragraph to cover all her activities while she was here. She arrived alone all the way from Georgia on Thursday, much against Barney's wishes, she says. And spent all the time she was here gallivanting around, seeing all of her friends, and being greatly entertained each minute. She told me all the places she was invited, but they are so varied and many it would be impossible to name them all. Luncheon with the Morrises on Sunday, Ham Goodwin on Monday, dinner with the Pollard Staleys, Mrs. E. R. Snead, the Tom Allisons, Reeve and Ampy Nicholas, and so on, ad infinitum, really. The reason for the visit, ostensibly, was the Presbyterian Bazaar on Friday, but she said the true reason was her yearning for Scottsville. People just can't get that Mink Greek water out of their system, when they leave this place. She left yesterday to go back home, and see how it was doing. She says took Frances Morris with her. She hopes to keep her there in Georgia for a couple of weeks.

At the Russell Moon, Jr.'s for the week-end was Miss Edith Vernon of San Francisco.

Mrs. W. F. Paulett went to Richmond last week-end to see her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. McEwen. She couldn't stay long, though, because she had to get back to her camellia bush Nursing Home in Charlottesville. (That has seven blooms on it, and she's mighty proud of that camellia bush, and has it in her sun parlor so nothing will happen to it!

Mrs. J. W. Kidd has had a steady flow of company recently, with Sam Drumheller and his brother from Schuyler over to see her on Sunday, and her son, Randolph Wrenn, from Waynesboro coming from Schuyler over to see her on Monday. I asked her how her husband was and she said that he was still very ill at the Hillcrest Nursing Home in Charlottesville. (Continued on page four)

The White Case

The Harry Dexter White case which has had the headlines during the past ten days has created a furor on the political front.

Attorney General Brownell has charged that the Truman administration failed to take even the minimum precautions in safeguarding the nation against White, an alleged Soviet spy.

Former President Truman told a nationwide TV audience that he let the promotion of White go through so as not to "endanger" the FBI in its investigation of the espionage ring.

Immediately FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover swore that the promotion of White by Truman hampered the FBI's investigation. In other words, what the former president said is not true.

Charges and counter-charges are expected to fly on the political front on the White case. When it's all over there probably won't be much accomplished. Certainly the arguments will not prove anything other than the fact that Harry Truman, although completely honest himself, was too careless about appointments of men of questionable character to high government posts. While serving in the world's biggest job, Truman never seemed to be big enough to grasp the great responsibilities which went with the position.

The Incarnation Of Jesus

By Rev. Elmer Ramsey
 Part VII
 Shepherds were the First Preachers

When the shepherds went home, they told the glad news to their families with happy spirits and throbbing hearts. They continued to tell the wonderful story to all their neighbors and to everyone they met. These shepherds were the first preachers of the Gospel of Christ.

The Wonderful News

Strange news spread through the little village of Bethlehem early next morning, that a baby was born to one of the registrants last night, and that a large company of angels told some shepherds that he was the Messiah. Some people believed it, while others rejected it as some fantastic tale. This news caused great excitement in the little town and the surrounding community, and became the most controversial subject for ages and ages. The most devout Jews, who believed in the promises of God, accepted the story, and the child as the promised Messiah. The pious people most probably visited Jesus and brought portions of dainty food and other tokens of their love and loyalty. Caravans bore the mysterious news to distant lands. The more the story was told by the doubting and the unbelieving to strangers and the skeptical, the more mysterious and factual it became. By the time the news reached the east, it was so altered and confused that it conveyed the thought that a new born, political king of the Jews had arrived in Bethlehem. This probably assisted the astrologers in arriving at their erroneous conclusion, and also caused their visit, later, to Bethlehem. In this way, it is highly probable that this startling news was linked with the appearance of the Natal Star.

Joseph Secures a Better Lodging

It is possible that the Holy Family did not remain in their lowly abode but a short time. Joseph and some of his kind and sympathetic friends soon secured a more comfortable lodging. It is probable that a very large number of the kind and generous people continued to visit the Holy Family and bring many choice tokens of love and friendship. By this time it is highly probable that Joseph and his little family were comfortable, and that their needs were well supplied.

The Naming of Jesus

"When he was eight days old and it was time to circumcise him, he was named Jesus, as the angel had named him before his birth was first expected." We have no record that he who performed this rite recognized him as the Son of God.

The Presentation in the Temple

"When he was forty-one days old, they took him up to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord, in fulfillment of the requirement of the law of the Lord, and to offer the sacrifice prescribed in the law of the Lord." B. C. 7-6.

Aged Simeon Recognizes Jesus As the Messiah

"Now there was a man in Jerusalem named Simeon, an upright devout man, who was living in expectation of the comforting of Israel, and under the influence of the Holy Spirit. It had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he should not die without seeing the Lord's Messiah. And under the Spirit's influence he went into Herod's Temple, and when Jesus' parents brought him there to do for him what the Law required, Simeon also took him in his arms and blessed God, and said, 'Now, Master, you will let your slave go free in peace, as you promised, For my eyes have seen your salvation which you have set before all the nations, A light of revelation for the heathen, And a glory to your people Israel!'"

"The child's father and mother were astonished at what Simeon said. And he gave them his blessing, and said to Mary, the child's mother."

"This child is destined to cause the fall and rise of many in Israel, and to be portent that will be much debated—you yourself will be pierced to the heart—and so the thoughts of many minds will be revealed."

"There was also a prophetess there named Hannah, the daughter of Phanuel, who belonged to the tribe of Asher. She was very old, for after her girlhood she had been married for seven years, and she had been a widow until she was now eighty-four. She never left the Temple, but worshipped night and day with fasting and prayer. She came up just at that time and gave thanks to God and spoke about the child to all who were living in expectation of the liberation of Jerusalem."

"When they had done everything that the law of the Lord required, they returned to Galilee, to their own town of Nazareth." B. C. 7-6, Lk. 2:39

"And the child grew up and became strong and thoughtful, with God's blessing resting on him." This brings us to the conclusion of Luke's marvelous story of the Incarnation of Jesus, with some exceedingly remarkable epochs in the post natal story.

The Disappearance of the Holy Family

Both Matthew and Luke are silent for a considerable period, relative to Joseph and his family, and we have no Biblical record of them for approximately two years. It appears that they lived at their old home in Nazareth for an indefinite portion of this time, while Joseph worked as a carpenter, and Mary faithfully cared for her little family.

They Probably Attended the Passover

As they were very devout, Mary and Joseph probably attended the Passover and other feasts at Jerusalem during this time, prior to making their second trip to Bethlehem. It would be mere speculation to say how long they lived in Nazareth, after their first return from Bethlehem; but we do know that they did not remain there more than two years. We also know that they did leave Nazareth and made a second trip to Bethlehem, because they were there when the astrologers visited them, approximately two years after their first trip when Jesus was born.

Ashby and Pauline Mayo went down to Newport News on Saturday to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Parr, and bring the senior Mrs. Parr back from a three week visit with her son. They all returned on Sunday.

Rose Mae Cohen demanded a retraction on last's week's comment about her letting her poor husband return to Scottsville without her and completely deserting him in his hour of need (that is, allowing him to drive back alone at night while she stayed on in Baltimore to party...). She had two of her nephews drive down with him, one as far as Baltimore and the other to Charlottesville, so Milton painted a much gloomier picture than it actually was! And Rose Mae returned to the home fireside on Monday night. So, apologies, dear friend....

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowden were the Saturday luncheon guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cosby Patterson. The Pattersons also had guests on Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Winkler from Charlottesville were here for luncheon too.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Jones will arrive on Sunday from Charleston, W. Va. to visit Mrs. Jones' sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Omohundro, Jr. and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Paulett. They'll be here for a week.

Bremo Bluff News

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stanton and their two children of Oak Ridge, spent several days last week with Ben's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Stanton. While here, Ben and his wife attended home coming at Fluvanna High School.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Gilliam Watkins and their daughter, Betsy of Richmond visited Sunday in the home of Mr. Watkins' sister, Mrs. Frank Crowell.

Week-end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Smith were Mr. and Mrs. Judson Saterwhite, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Saterwhite, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Saterwhite and Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Smith and son, all from Richmond.

Mrs. Hazel Ranson spent the week-end in Baltimore with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wallace. Mrs. Wallace came home with her mother to spend a week.

Miss Jean Patterson, who is a student at R. P. I. in Richmond, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Ranson visited Mrs. E. M. Seay Sunday, who is a patient in Martha Jefferson Hospital, Charlottesville.

In And Around Columbia

By Jeane F. Roberts

Columbia on the river James is made up of parts of three counties—Fluvanna, Goochland and Cumberland. Standing at the crossroads at Mr. Kent's garage and filling station, one can look across the bridge into Cumberland, or eastward where the road curves around a big boulder going toward Goochland, or down the main stem and westward toward Fork Union. It is said that Columbia was proposed originally as the site for the capital of Virginia. One little push in the balanced scales of decision, and Columbia remains today as charming as it was in the days before the Revolutionary war . . . the quaint old homes aged 150 to 200 years lining the main thoroughfare, the gracious charm of old homes, winding roads and ancient churches above, and the old stores, lumber yards and railroad station along the river bank below. There is beauty in the old fashioned way of life in Columbia, scarcely touched by the invasions of modernism. Thomas Jefferson must have passed through here many times on his way from Charlottesville to Richmond, or while visiting friends and relatives along the James river. There was his friend, Archibald Cary of Amptill just over the bridge. Then too, Jefferson owned Elk Hill in Goochland county not far from Columbia. And there was Charles Lewis and his son Howell Lewis of "The Bird" . . . who owned the mill on Byrd creek. Little children shopping with their parents in the stores today in Columbia are descendants—either direct or collateral of these patriots.

A man of the cloth—Rev. Dewitt Zachary, often seen in the stores shopping for or with Mrs. Zachary, spent a number of years restoring his boyhood home—one of the charming white frame houses above the town with ancient atmosphere, and an old fashioned garden.

Across the James river over the bridge from Cumberland county, comes Mrs. Henry M. Snead Sr. to shop in Columbia. . . a lady who has time to run a 600-acre farm, to take active part in the local D. A. R. chapter, to do oil paintings, and to entertain and visit her children and grandchildren in Fork Union and Culpeper. Her son, Henry Martin Snead Jr., and family were recent visitors to Southerly Farms.

The Ronald Cockes who live in their ancient ancestral home, Greenwood, are often seen driving, or parked along the main stem, or exchanging the time of day and weather with neighbors in a village grocery store. Mrs. Cocke has a daughter in Washington, D. C. who is an artist, and a member of the Arts Club of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell Lewis and family, and the Mayo Lewises and the Grandstaffs are seen occasionally at Mrs. Thurston's store at Columbia's crossroads. The Lewises are descendants of Howell Lewis of the Bird. The Lewises still live in Bird district, and their various farms are divisions of the original 2,000-acre tract of the original Lewis who came to Goochland in 1727 from Charles City County.

Ramblings

Education of the young has a great many sides, and the subject is practically inexhaustible. As a child grows from ten to twenty, he either dutifully studies what he is given, he rejects all that he is exposed to, or he develops his own keen desire to know more, and may thus continue his education all of his life. It is this latter condition that is most gratifying to those who teach him. Education is administered like a pill to far too many children. But the problem of how to show a youngster what a benefit it can be is sometimes a difficult one.

The other night this fact was brought home to me when I was foolish enough to engage in an argument about the future of my eight-year-old son, who has a great many ideas, and very few of them, so far, have come out of books. Books, to him, are a necessary evil, except highly imaginative fiction. He is going to "work" when he grows up, but preferably at something you don't have to learn from a book. Since his brother and the rest of the family have all gained worlds of pleasure from both reading and study, this posed a new and challenging problem, although nothing disturbing at this tender age. However, for the sake of argument, I observed that he seemed to be mechanically and electrically inclined, since his pockets, drawers and most of his room are infested with bits and pieces of wires, pipes, spark plugs, ball bearings, nuts, bolts, screws, and various tools. He could never put things together properly, I said, learning some fundamentals from books. Well, he turned momentarily from a mechanic to a farmer. "You can pitch hay without studying about it," I remarked that if he studied about it, he'd have better hay to pitch. He would thereby make more money, so he could buy more equipment, or pay someone else to pitch it. What stopped the argument was, he didn't want to learn so much that he'd be good enough to make enough money to buy equipment and pay other people to work, because then he'd be putting out his money, and all he'd have left

VIRGINIA: IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF ALBEMARLE COUNTY, NOV. 6th, 1953.

GEORGE L. McCARY
Plaintiff
v. ORDER OF PUBLICATION
REECE McCARY, if he be living, et al, Defendants

The object of this suit is to partition amongst the owners, by sale or otherwise, a certain tract of land lying in Albemarle County, Virginia, near Scottsville, containing 47 1/4 acres, more or less, as shown on a plat of record in the Clerk's Office of the above Court in Deed Book 85, page 267, and owned by Sarah McCary at the time of her death in 1910, and

An affidavit having been made and filed showing that diligence has been used by or on behalf of the Plaintiff, George L. McCary, to ascertain in what County or Corporation the Defendant, REESE McCARY is, without effect, and

It appearing that the Bill of Complaint filed in this suit states that there are or may be persons interested in the subject (the aforesaid 47 1/4 acres) to be divided or disposed of, whose names are unknown, and makes such persons defendants by the general description of "Parties Unknown," and on affidavit that any such parties are unknown, being the widow and heirs, devisees, or other successors in title to the said REESE McCARY (a son of said Sarah McCARY) if he be dead,

It is ORDERED that the said REESE McCARY, if he be living, and if he be dead the said unknown parties, being the widow, heirs, devisees, or other successors in title of the said Reese McCARY, or other persons interested in the aforesaid property, who are made defendants to said bill by the general description of "Parties Unknown", do appear within ten (10) days after due publication of this order and do what is necessary to protect their interests, and

It is further ORDERED that this order be published as by statute provided, in the SCOTTSVILLE (Virginia) SUN, and posted by the Clerk of this Court in all respects as the Statute requires.

to do was read. He'd rather do the work and maybe save up enough to buy a hot rod. "I couldn't stand sitting in an office in a nice suit and talking on the telephone all day," he said. "I want to be outdoors and work."

What he'll do when the sun goes down and he has to come indoors and think a while, is still a mystery. But it is to be hoped that exposure to education long enough will change his ideas.

The end in education as I see it is to twist the course in any subject into interesting enough channels and present it in an interesting enough way so that it will stimulate a child's mind, and remain in it for use in later life. The subject matter is not so important as the exercise of the mind and the learning how to learn. No more good to tell a child the advantage of a good education, than in telling him to come to the other side of a lake when he hasn't learned to swim or use a boat. We must first create the desire for attainment, and then show him how to get there.

Hard work never harmed anybody, either, and I'd just as soon have been on the other end of the argument, because, which is worse, a man that knows how and won't work, or one that knows less, but works hard?

District Meeting

The Virginia Anti-Littsburg Council met at Lord Culpeper Hotel in Culpeper Tuesday, November 10.

The eighth district was represented by 13 counties, including Fluvanna County. From this county, Miss Letha J. Wade, Rivanna Home Demonstration Club secretary, and Paul H. France, county agent, represented the Home Demonstration Clubs of Fluvanna and the Ruritan Club.

County Farm Notes

By P. H. France, County Agent
Emergency reeding suggestions, and tips on feed production—when it does rain—were outlined by VPI Agricultural Extension Service specialists at a meeting November 10, at Palmyra.

The meeting for Fluvanna County farmers was one of a series being held throughout the state this month.

G. R. Esperson, of VPI's agronomy staff, told the farmers that the severe drought this year re-emphasized the need for developing a year-round feed program on every farm, using a combination of mixtures which provide adequate pasture during the grazing season and furnish high quality hay and silage for the winter feeding period.

Specifically, his suggestions were: Topdress alfalfa, pasture and hay crops during the rest of this fall, winter or early spring; and topdress small grains intended for silage, hay or grain with nitrogen for early spring grazing. Use cover crops for grazing—boost the carrying capacity by applying 30 to 60 pounds of nitrogen per acre in January or February.

Seed winter oats for grazing, silage, hay or grain as soon after February 1 as the land can be prepared. Overseed poor stands or lost stands of small grain with winter or spring oats.

Seed spring oats for silage hay or grain; and seed sweet sudan grass for midsummer grazing, silage or hay.

K. C. Williamson, animal husbandman from VPI, outlined ways livestock men can make certain substitutions, and how they can "stretch" the winter feed supply. The "stretchers" he mentioned include:

Oil meal—protein improves digestion and saves feed. A rule of thumb is to use 10 pounds of oil meal to each 100 pounds of farm grains where hay is fair. With top quality hay in abundance, oil meal is unnecessary.

Molasses—3 pounds equal 2 pounds of corn for wintering. At $50 a ton molasses is equal to $75 a ton corn. With molasses, more poor roughages will be eaten.

Purdue supplement A—when fed with hay Purdue supplement A is no better than ordinary oil meal, so use the cheapest. The more complex supplement is necessary, though, with straw and cobs.

Honeysuckle—graze it, but usually it will take additional feed.

Pellets—easier fed in small quantities than meal; reduces loss from wind blowing.

Williamson said also that where half enough or more hay is available, its lack can be made up by substituting one pound of grain for 2½ to 4 pounds of hay. The minimum roughage needs are 7 pounds of hay per cow or 3 pounds per calf each day, but silage can be used at the rate of 3 pounds of silage equaling 1 pound of hay.

He emphasized that the greatest feeding saving of all will come from killing lice, grubs, and internal parasites.

R. G. Connelly, of VPI's dairy department, said dairy farmers may need to feed more grain feeds to supplement their home supply of roughages. In some cases it may pay to buy limited amounts of top quality legume hay to be doled out to the cows through the winter months to furnish the cows with needed vitamins, minerals and proteins essential to health and dairy production.

He had these specific suggestions:

Cull the herd to avoid wasting feed. Salvage and preserve all drought-damaged forage to reduce the amounts of forage that must be purchased.

Extend the supply of inferior forage by chopping it and adding molasses to the forage when fed. Feed all roughage in the barn. Rack feeding is wasteful.

Estimate your feed needs closely. Try to include at least a small amount of good quality hay in each cow's daily ration. Feed at least 1½ pounds of hay equivalent forage per 100 pounds of cow daily. Three pounds of silage or ¾ pound of concentrates is equivalent to 1 pound of hay in nutrients supplied.

When buying hay, buy only top quality hay on the basis of U. S. grades. Molasses is a good condiment. Six and one-half gallons of molasses is equivalent to one bushel of corn in feeding value.

Keep mineral supplement and salt before the cattle at all times. Sell any surplus breeding stock to save feed and to furnish capital for carrying the remainder of the herd through the drought period.

GRAZING HABITS OF DAIRY COWS STUDIED AT VPI—
What are the grazing habits of dairy cows?
Are they different on different pastures?
How is milk production affected?

The answers to these and related questions were sought in a recent study at VPI Agricultural Experiment Station. Dr. W. A. Hardison, of the dairy department, said the dairy animals were watched for several 24-hour periods. In a typical day and night, the cows spend over half their time, or 16 hours, standing. Over half (about 9 hours) of this standing time is spent grazing, the other 7 hours are spent "loafing". In their dawn-to-dawn watch, the researchers also noted that the dairy cow spends about 1/3 of the time "chewing her cud", and about 1/3 of the time lying down.

The cows tended to graze most intensively and for longer periods of time upon reaching the pasture after the morning and evening milkings. They tended to "loaf" and lie down during the middle or hotter portions of the day and also for 2 or 3 hours after midnight. Usually the cow grazed for an hour or two just before midnight.

As a rule they drank water upon reaching the pastures both morning and evening.

Dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Campbell on Wednesday, November 11, were W. W. White and Mrs. and Mrs. Douglas Folkes.

Miss Betty Jane Griffin and Miss Hazel Bell of Longwood College attended the Homecoming and football game at Fluvanna County High School on Friday and spent the week-end with their parents.

Mrs. Ida Hilton of Charlottesville spent several days last week with Mrs. W. W. Bercau.

Mrs. D. L. Folkes, Mrs. Susie Campbell, Mrs. Fernand Gareau and Miss Sadelew White were business visitors in Richmond Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Griffin spent Armistice Day in Richmond.

The Rivanna Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday at the Wilmington Community House. Subject was the uses of apples, led by Mr. J. L. Parrish.

In 1909, food cost a family of five in New York City about $2 a day.

mother, Mrs. Maybelle Fry, on Sunday.

It has been reported by Justin Wade that there is a puma or cougar in this vicinity. Justin saw it in the wooded area near his home. This animal preys on sheep, calves and other domestic animals and is a pest, since when attacking a sheepfold, it makes away with a large number of sheep at one time. It is hoped that the Wilmington puma will be killed before it does any damage.
