Cooking Class Held At Scottsville High

Miss Nada Mays, Home Economist of Appalachian Electric Power Company, gave instruction in electric cookery to the members of the home economic classes in the Scottsville High School. The use and care of the electric range was stressed. She also demonstrated the food mixer and the deep fat fryer.

A complete meal for the 40 students was prepared on the surface units. Also a complete oven and broiler meal was prepared for the average family.

Miss Mays discussed the various types of cooking utensils which should be used in electric cooking operations and stressed the importance of conserving the nutritive value of foods by using small amounts of water.

The services of the Appalachian Economist are always available for schools and demonstrations on all types of electric appliances.

Cooking plays an important role in homemaking and is likewise stressed in the Home Economic Department of the school.

The meal prepared by Miss Mays was served to the students.

Marsh issued the following ordinance yesterday: "No person shall deposit paper or other trash upon any street or sidewalk in the town nor shall any person, firm, or corporation obstruct or impede the flow of water in any street, gutter, alley or drain. All persons, firms or corporations shall place all trash, rubbish and garbage in sanitary containers at location where they will not hinder, retard or endanger those using the streets, alleys or sidewalks of the town. Such containers shall be placed where they shall be accessible to the sanitation forces of this town. Anyone violating this law shall be fined not less than $1 and not more than $10 for each offense. "This ordinance shall be enforced," stated Sgt. Marsh.

Harris Finds No Fault With County Executive Robinson

Ashby Harris, Scottsville District member of the Albemarle Board of Supervisors, stated this week that he had "no fault to find whatsoever" with county executive and finance director Dan A. Robinson, who was asked last week by the Albemarle Board of Supervisors to resign. Harris was one of the two supervisors casting a negative vote to the resolution at the March meeting of the Supervisors put before the Board by Supervisor John W. Williams, asking for the resignation of Robinson on or before June 30, 1953. Harris stated that so far as he could see Robinson was "perfect for the job."

Harris and Supervisor Warren W. Wood opposed Williams' resolution which was carried by a vote of 4 to 2. The resolution cited lack of confidence in Robinson as the reason for the request that he resign. Robinson has been employed by Albemarle County since the spring of 1948. Supervisor Harris stated this week that he felt no tax collector will be too popular. This was the same opinion given at last Wednesday's Board meeting by Supervisor W. L. "The most important job of the county executive is tax collecting," stated Harris. "The finance part of the job is the main part," he added.

"This was an inopportune time to ask for the resignation of Robinson," Supervisor Harris reported. "There is a time and place for everything," stated Mr. Harris, and this was not the proper time. "I'm sorry to see it happen," Harris said.

Robinson has requested a written statement of reasons as to why he was requested to resign and has also asked for a public hearing. The hearing will be held at 7:30 p.m. April 15 in the Board room of the County Office Building.

Abrams Winner In Photo Contest

Rev. Abrams, who is Supervisor of colored Elementary Schools in Fluvanna County and a minister for three churches, stated that he was at a conference in Hampton when the paper came out, but that several people called his home to tell him that their farm was the lucky winner. His farm is located 6 miles east of Scottsville on the Richmond road, and consists of 100 acres. Rev. and Mrs. Abrams have owned their place for about 15 years and are now raising beef cattle and have 20 head of Hereford cattle.

Rev. Abrams in addition to his work as Supervisor in the colored schools, is pastor of Mt. Calvary Baptist Church at Ivy, Byrd Grove Baptist Church at Kents Store, and New Hope Baptist Church at Gold Hill. The Abrams have one daughter who is working in the Welfare Department in the city of Richmond.

P. H. France, County Agent for Fluvanna County, wrote to the Sun office this week congratulating Rev. Abrams on being the winner of the Farm Photo Quiz. "Rev. Abrams has made outstanding progress in demonstrating the better farming practices on his farm," Mr. France stated.

The letter "c" before a date stands for "circa" meaning approximately.

Mr. Leap has two sons, both veterans. Worth E., Jr. served with the U. S. Army in Europe, World War II and James H. is now serving in the U. S. Navy aboard the battleship Missouri in Korean waters. Mr. Leap is an enthusiastic fisherman.

Watson Has Light Docket In Trial Justice Court

Judge Sidney Watson was presented a light docket at Trial Justice Court held in Scottsville last Thursday morning. A total of only $25 in fines was meted out by Judge Watson for the three cases appearing in court.

James Lucas was brought up on charges of drunkenness on February 28. Lucas was arrested late on Saturday afternoon after failing to go home when requested by the town police officer. Judge Watson noted that "it was the same old story." Lucas had appeared in court on February 19 on similar charges, and was fined $10 which was to be paid by this court. On the Feb. 28 charge Judge Watson fined Lucas $10 and gave him 10 days jail sentence, suspended on good behavior for three months.

Lucas was again unable to pay his fine and was given until next court, on March 19, to pay both the fine meted out on February 19 and the one on March 5.

Waddell Barrett appeared on being drunk in town on the night of February 27. Sgt. F. F. Marsh arrested Barrett after seeing him coming out of the movie drunk. Barrett, when questioned by Judge Watson, reported that he had not been in court in over a year. He received a $5 fine and as he was unable to pay it, he was given until next court to pay.

William Frazier received a $10 fine for speeding on February 18. Frazier was arrested after rounding the curve of the intersection of Valley and Main and was clocked at 25 miles an hour in a 15 mile zone by Sgt. Marsh. Frazier stated that the speedometer on his truck was broken and he did not realize that he was traveling at that speed.

One case was tried in absence.

Of the men and horses involved, only one horse survived the Custer Massacre.

The dollar saved helps to provide loanable funds, on which we pay you interest and which in turn we lend to others to create production. Also, every dollar you save helps to build up a back log of purchasing power for you. This purchasing power will be available later on and will undoubtedly give you lasting satisfaction. The dollar saved helps you acquire that sense of security which may mean the difference between confidence and happiness and worry and anxiety. We suggest that if your dollars are to do these three jobs that you spend only that which is necessary and save as much as possible. Open an account with our Savings Department today.

FARM SURPLUS PROBLEM MAY BE TEMPORARY ONE

Representatives of farm states are concerned over what may be unmanageable crop surpluses by the end of the current year and last week several Senators introduced a bill to authorize the Commodity Credit Corporation to engage in direct or indirect barter transactions with foreign nations in need of our farm products.

Measures of this general type have been considered off and on since the McNary-Haugen proposal of the early depression years but no practical plan has been devised to avoid the charge of "dumping," or to keep the cost of the program within reasonable limits. One thing is certain, however. A rigid 90 percent of parity support program for another two years will be expensive and does not solve the problem disposal. The Secretary of Agriculture has indicated that accumulation of surpluses far beyond visible markets would require imposition of rigid production controls. That type of control is distasteful to all farmers and might likewise result in driving out of agriculture many who before long may be urgently needed to produce adequate food for our own use.

Dr. Fairfield Osborn, the distinguished author and naturalist, told me recently that the population of the United States is now increasing at a rate greater than that of India and that we will have 30 million more people in the foreseeable future. He feels the time will come when our problem will not be surplus food or clothing but producing enough to meet our needs. The answer, he feels, and I agree with him, lies not in federal regulation and restrictions on production but in finding useful outlets for our products now and continuing to develop improved methods of crop production.

The decision to take up the Tideland Oil question ahead of Statehood for Hawaii will give those of us who feel there is a real danger in the Hawaiian proposal an opportunity to present to the nation the seriousness of the precedent, to be established.

Last week I mentioned some of the issues involved in a brief speech in which I challenged the unfair and unjustified charge in a New York Times editorial that Southerners were opposing Hawai-

"Biff" Falls for His Own Story

Biff Morgan's four-year-old daughter Rusty is something of a night owl. Stays awake way past her bedtime.

Every night Mrs. Morgan complained about how hard it was to get Rusty to go to sleep. Finally Biff decided to handle the situation. "Anyone can get a kid to sleep — takes a little patience! Here, hand me her storybook."

He grabs the book and goes into Rusty's room. About an hour later Rusty comes padding out in pajamas and hands her mother the book. "Read it quietly," she whispers, "so we don't wake Daddy."

From where I sit, Biff won't be so quick to be a "child-care specialist" the next time. If we could just resist being such "know it alls," our neighbors would be better off. Take those who would deny me a glass of beer with my supper — well, I might not care for the buttermilk they like. We all ought to realize that we all have different abilities and different preferences, too.

County Farm Notes

BLUE MOLD WARNINGS
COME FROM SOUTH

Blue mold, the tobacco grower's bugaboo, has shown up in Georgia, and Virginia growers are reminded to get ready for the annual onslaught in this State.

S. B. Fenne, plant pathologist at VPI, says spraying and dusting for blue mold control was begun generally in the early Georgia areas in mid-February.

Reports from Georgia indicate that blue mold is expected to develop to some degree in every tobacco bed in the flue-cured area there before the middle of April; and damage is expected to be determined by water conditions prevailing just before the peak of the disease.

In Texas blue mold has been evident since early January on wild tobacco, in spite of little rainfall.

Fenne says it is important to protect early plants from blue mold, not so much because they might be killed, but primarily infected early plants serve as a source for disease spread to later plants when conditions become favorable for the disease to develop.

Check equipment now and stock an adequate supply of spraying or dusting material, Fenne advises.
LIME, FERTILIZER
ADVISED FOR NEW
PASTURE SEEDINGS

Enough lime and fertilizer to get young pasture seedlings off to a good start are advised by John F. Shoulders, associate agronomist at VPI.

He says to have your soil tested and if lime is needed apply enough to bring the pH to between 6.0 and 6.5. Disc the lime in the soil to a depth of 4 to 5 inches to encourage deeper root development.

New seedlings of pasture should receive from 600 to 1,000 pounds of complete fertilizer, such as 2-12-12 or 5-10-10, depending on the mixture to be seeded and the present level of plant food in the soil. The soil test will indicate whether plant food is low medium or high.

On poor soils a ladino clover-tall grass pasture seeding should receive 1,000 pounds per acre of a 5-10-10. If the soil is low in phosphorus, and additional 400 to 800 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate will likely be profitable. However, if the fertility level of the soil is high, 600 pounds of 2-12-12 per acre will probably be enough.

If the mixture used contains legumes such as lespedeza or white Dutch clover, fertilizer such as 4-16-8 or 4-12-8 may be used at the rate of from 600 to 1,000 pounds per acre.

The most thorough job of mixing fertilizer deeply into the soil to encourage deep penetration of roots can be done before seeding. Therefore heavier applications of phosphorus and potash are particularly profitable at seeding, because deep placement of these plant foods encourages longer lasting and more productive stands.

New seedlings need enough nitrogen to provide rapid initial growth, even though legumes are included in the mixture. The nitrogen provided by a complete fertilizer takes the place of the nitrogen that will be fixed from the atmosphere after the legumes have become well established.

For more details, ask for Bulletin 194, "Good Pastures—Your Cheapest Feed."

LEE FARMER WINS SHEEP CONTEST

W. D. McNeil, Lee county farmer, has been named the winner of the 1952, "returns-per-ewe" contest—a program sponsored by the Virginia Purebred Sheep Breeders Association and the VPI Agricultural Extension Service to encourage profitable sheep breeding in the state.

McNeil reported an average return of $47.23 each on 21 ewes and 133 percent lamb crop. He receives a $35 prize.

Second prize of $20 goes to G. D. Kite, Culpeper, who reported an average of $43.13 each on 34 ewes. Third prize of $10 goes to W. B. Clagett, Clarke, with an average return of $39.91 on 95 ewes.

Winners of $5 prizes are: W. H. Starkey, Roanoke; Dean G. Shuler, Wytheville; W. C. Walker, Rockingham; H. Preston Caldwell, Craig; Paul L. Swecker, Shenandoah; Mrs. Mickey B. Goad and David Goad, Jr., Shenandoah; and Samuel F. Richard, Shenandoah.

The formula for McNeil's success with sheep as seen by the assistant Lee county agent, George A. Lee—"good breeding, excellent management and top quality pasture even when there is snow on the ground."

McNeil himself says, "We think our success with sheep is due to our feeding and pasture program. We have 33 acres of ladino-orchard grass we use with the sheep and about 25 head of cattle, rotating the sheep from one field to another about once a month. About the first of July we turn them into a new field with the ram.

"The ewes are turned on rye pasture as soon as the grass is gone and stay out until the first lamb drops. Then we put them in the barn every night, feeding about 1/2 bushel of crushed corn each morning and night. I also put a box of fret-choice minerals in the barn.

"By the time to take them off the rye, the ladino-orchard grass is good and I put them on it. This gets them to market early at a good size and that is where the profit is in the lambs."

Great Britain and China took part in the Opium War from 1840 to 1842.

The first U. S. World's Fair was held in New York in 1853 and 1854.

Country Lawyer

By Walter Johnson

As our nation waits our new President procrastinates. That is probably the best description of what is going on in Washington in the strangest and most unusual administration in the history of our Republic. More than two months have elapsed since General Eisenhower, in a blaze of glory, took the oath of office and led the massive parade up Pennsylvania Avenue on January 20th. That parade was watched with pride and hope and confidence by many millions of citizens who considered it the dawning of another day.

Certainly no one expects that the new President is a super-man. Nor does anyone consider that the President personally assumes or presumes to take the super-man status. Instead, it is the clique around the President that assumes the super-man status to itself and it is the conduct of that clique that reflects upon the President and the Administration.

One of the major promises of General Eisenhower was to clean up the mess existing in Washington. That has bogged down hopelessly. The best that can be said so far is that a small and minute part of the mess has been brushed under the rug. In other instances the mess has eaten up the mess-cleaner and this is particularly true of the State Department. There it appears that Secretary of State Dulles was simply absorbed and taken over by the mess.

One of the worst messes in Washington has been the Civil Service Commission. The theory of real participation in or responsibility was good out the lity.

Today the Republican Party has its national headquarters in Washington. The National Chairman, selected by the President at behest of Senator Frank Carlson, is Wes Roberts of Kansas and who is under fire for his activities in Kansas. But the strangest thing of all is that the Republican National Committee says "We are only a referral agency" in so far as staffing and mess cleaning is concerned. When that happens, as it has happened, that the political party in power is reduced to a "referral agency" with the clique around the White House making all decisions then government-by-party even though that party is as precious and as necessary to our Freedom as is the Constitution. It would appear that this clique considers the political party as something useful at election time but otherwise to have no

SERVING THE PEOPLE OF THE TOWN OF SCOTTSVILLE AND THE NEIGHBORING COMMUNITIES IN ALBEMARLE, FLUVANNA AND BUCKINGHAM COUNTIES

Teamwork On The Land

Soil conservation and efficient land use have become the prime concern not only of progressive dirt farmers, but of far-sighted agricultural and industrial leaders. In the period from 1930 to 1950 there was a population increase in the United States of 23 per cent. Yet, for several decades our crop acreage has remained virtually stationary at about 370,000,000 acres. At the same time, farm land formerly cultivated but now ruined for further immediate and practical cultivation by erosion and abuse totals approximately 100,000,000 acres. The importance of this lost land may be judged by the fact that the entire wheat crop of 1950 was harvested from 61,000,000 acres.

It would appear from these figures that the country should now be suffering from near famine. The reason it is not is that production per acre as a result of improved land use and modern machinery, has increased sufficiently to keep pace with our rising population.

This program, aided by farmer-organized soil conservation districts, is fundamental to the future security of the United States. It is a fine example of citizen responsibility inspired by the "enlightened selfishness" of modern business and agriculture.

"Operation Economy"

A short time ago Chairman Tabor of the House Appropriations Committee announced the start of an intensive budget-cutting study. It has been given the name "Operation Economy" and will be conducted by business and management experts. Mr. Tabor says that its purpose is to squeeze every drop of water out of the next budget.

The idea is to put business principles into the fiscal affairs of government. That is one of the best pieces of news taxpayers have heard in many moons.

Go To Sunday School

Beginning the second week following Easter, America will observe the ninth annual recognition of National Sunday School Week (April 13 through 19). Lasting the entire week, this all-faiths drive is planned with an idea of stimulating the attendance of every adult and child at the Sunday School of his own choice on Sunday, April 19th.

Sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, a non-profit, non-sectarian organization consisting of men and women from civic as well as business fields, this worthy project is yearly highlighted throughout the entire country.

Laying foundations of faith through the training in religion for our little ones is all important if we as a nation are to survive in today's world of paganism and constant conflict. Our Sunday Schools are more than mere religious training institutions—they are a combination of ministry and lay workers, a happy team, united in their selfless dedication to an ideal of an ever closer relation between man and God.

On April 2, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. the F. C. H. S. gymnasium will be the scene of the annual senior prom. Dancing will be by the mu-sic of the John Pierce orchestra composed of five pieces including a Morris, Frank Pace, Wayne Pace, vocalist. The gym will be decorated with heavenly bodies and objects of the atomic age. The climax of the evening for the seniors will be the senior figure by the class song "Blue Moon." Get out your dancing shoes and make it the loveliest night of the year.

LEAGUE PLAY WINS DISTINGUISHED RATING
 On March 13, the Drama Club presented "where the Cross is made," by Eugene O'Neill. The play was rated "Distinguished" by the judge, Captain James Gray, of Fork Union Military Academy. The play will be presented at the State League Play Festival which will be held March 26, through March 28 at the University of Virginia.

This year marks the third consecutive time Fluvanna Tnespians have obtained a distinguished rating in League District competition. This year's distinguished rating was a repeat achievement for several members of cast. Bobby Jones and Kenneth Webb were members of the cast of "Submerged" and "Balcony Scene." Also in "Balcony Scene" last year were Jeanne Thomas, Bibbie Williams and Harold Thompson.

OTHELLO ATTENDED
 Four cars filled with students and faculty members of F. C. H. S. left Fluvanna Thursday night, March 5 to witness the production of the Shakespearean play, Othello. The performance was given in Cabell Hall and presented by some of the University players and students.

 Mr. Connelly, pastor of Fork Union Baptist Church, was guest speaker at F. C. H. S. on March 5. Mr. Charlton commented on the work of the term and reminded us that the end of the term is drawing near. Bobbie Williams, David Johnson and Roy Loving told about the highlights of the Virginia High School Forum at John Marshall High School.

The band opened the joint P.T.A. meeting with 15 minutes of slow waltzes, peppy marches, and popular pieces on March 12. Mr. Charlton introduced the speaker, Dr. Robinson. In his talk, Dr. Robinson stressed the importance of a friendly cooperation between the father and mother in the handling of children. He said the P. T. A. was formed to better the relationship between the teachers and parents. The P. T. A.'s goals don't necessarily have to be spending money for numerous things, but its goals should be helping the child as well, he said. "The parents must raise the children harmoniously," Dr. Robinson said and the home, school, and the child would be improved. Mr. Conner closed the meeting with prayer.

Fathers Entertained By Girl Scouts

Girl Scouts of the local Troops No. 44 and No. 45 entertained their fathers at a supper held last Monday night at St. John's Parish house in Scottsville. About 65 Scouts and their fathers participated in the Father-Daughter Supper, which is an annual event with Girl Scouts of the Albemarle Council. Scottsville Brownie Troop No. 44 and Intermediate Troop No. 45, which were organized last fall, celebrated their first supper of this kind.

Miss Adah Brangan, Executive Director of Albemarle County Girl Scouts, was present at the supper and led the group in songs. Miss Brangan showed colored slides of the Girl Scout Day Camp held at Lake Reynova last summer. Elmer Johnson showed a film on Day Camping, which was sent from the National Office of Girl Scouts.

Scout meetings for this week are held on Monday afternoon and members of the troop helped in the preparation of the supper in honor of their fathers.

Milk and coffee were contributed by The Albemarle Scout Council, some of the expenses of the spaghetti and slaw supper were contributed by a Scout father and additional costs of the supper were taken care of by the Troop members. Dessert of ice cream was furnished by a friend of the Scouts.

A member of the Albemarle Girl Scout Council, Mrs. Hughes, was a guest at the supper with Miss Brangan. Other guests were Tom Gillis and Rev. Jack Taylor as guest fathers, Merrill Carter, member of the Executive committee of Troop No. 45, and the Scout Leaders, Mrs. John Dorrier, Mrs. Gordon Dorrier, Mrs. Elmer Johnson, and Mrs. Buel Carden.

(Continued from insert page one) or otherwise for the job that it is presuming to do. Even if we concede that this gang is not trying to substitute the alien method of government-by-personal-clique for government-by-party the best that can be said so far is that it has made a miserable mess of the promised mess-cleaning.

And the conduct of our Congress is not encouraging. Under our system of separated powers the Congress holds the Legislative and the President holds the executive powers. This important separation is lost if either controls the other. Now the press and radio reports and television shows the leaders of the Senate and House, Taft and Martin, constantly entering the majestic portals of the White House with their hats in their hands.

That does not look good. The Congress that subordinates itself to the Executive is unworthy because its function is to exercise its own judgment collectively as the legislative or law-making representatives of the people.

The best thing that President Eisenhower, the Adams Cnque and Senator Taft and Speaker Martin can do for themselves and for their Country would be to stop and take counsel with themselves and think about what they are doing.

Trial Justice Court Fines Total $50; Five Cases Heard

Judge Sidney Watson meted out $50 in fines to the five cases which appeared before him in Trial Justice Court held in Scottsville last week on March 19.

George Morris was given a 30 day jail sentence and a fine of $25 for being drunk and cursing and threatening George Early on March 14. Early reported that he had been sitting in his truck in town when two men came up and started cursing him and threatened to kill him. He said that he locked the door of the truck to keep them out. Morris reported that he had been going up the street when Early had called him over to the truck and asked him for a cigarette. A witness was called in on the case who stated that he had been walking up the street when Morris had come up behind him and knocked his hat off. Another witness accused Morris of pulling a knife on two people on the Saturday that he was arrested. Morris when questioned by the Judge stated that he had appeared in court previously.

John H. Lavis received a $5 fine for being drunk in town on February 28. Davis who is from Fluvanna, said that he had been in court once before.

Taylor reported that he had planned to play pool with Robinson who backed out of the game and afterwards came up and hit him. Robinson brought in two witnesses who verified his testimony that Taylor made comments on a game in which Robinson was playing and started cursing. Robinson hit Taylor when he thought the cursing was directed toward him. Judge Watson in fining Robinson stated that he was guilty but that he didn't "blame him for hitting him."

The Judge said that he found him guilty because Taylor had been leaning on a railing when he was hit, and that there was a question in his mind if he shouldn't issue a warrant against Taylor.

Ed Taylor appeared on charges of disorderly conduct in an arrest made shortly after the incident in the pool room on March 7. State Trooper W. L. Davidson arrested Taylor after he came out of the pool room and went up the street cursing in a loud voice. Taylor reported that he knew nothing about this as he remembered nothing after being hit in the pool room. Judge Watson fined him $5. Taylor voluntarily said that he would not come to town to stay any more "but will do my business and go home."

Jessie Meadows was brought up on charges of being drunk in town and received a $10 fine and 10 day jail sentence, suspended on good behavior for three months.
