School Gets New Club Addressed Driver Education Car By Mrs. Grimes

Tom Gillis, principal of the Scottsville High School, announced today that the new driver education car, a 1953 two-toned blue Chevrolet, has arrived at the school.

W. J. Smith, president of Smith Chevrolet Sales, has for the past two years donated a new car for the purpose of teaching students in the ninth through the eleventh grades who desire it to drive. The car is equipped with dual controls, and is lettered appropriately on the side, with proper identification on both front and back.

The instructor is Mrs. Claudine Eaton, one of the new members of the faculty this year. She will teach, along with driving methods, safety rulings and good judgment in driving, so that the boys and girls who finish the course will not only be good drivers, but safe drivers. Mr. Gillis said that from all the group who have finished their course, there has been not one incident of an involvement in any kind of automobile accident. He is justifiably proud of that record.

COUNTY CHAIRMAN

RICHMOND—Harry Griffin of Dillwyn has been named Buckingham County Chairman of the United Defense Fund of Virginia. This was announced today by House of Delegates member W. Tayloe Murphy of Warsaw, Virginia, state chairman of the organization.

Mrs. Grimes, representative of the Waynesboro Nurseries was the principal speaker at the monthly meeting of the Fairhaven Garden Club last Wednesday. She showed slides and spoke on shrubs best suited to the Virginia climate. Also in her talk, she gave some hints on drying flowers successfully, and what flowers were authentic for 18th century flower arrangements.

The meeting, which began at 2 o'clock, was held at the home of Mrs. Jack B. Taylor with Mrs. Guy E. Moon as co-hostess.

Arrangements were exhibited and judged. Mrs. R. V. Krouse won a blue ribbon for an arrangement of roses, Mrs. Guy Moon, red for an arrangement of zinnias, and Mrs. W. F. Paulett, yellow for her arrangement of asters.

During the business session, it was decided that the club would not sponsor a flower show this fall, as has been their practice for the past few years, due to the extreme drought. Secondly, they voted to take as a project the raising of $150 to bring the 24-piece Virginia Symphony Orchestra to Scottsville for a free concert for the children of our community. To raise this money they plan to have food sales, and arouse the interest of several other civic organizations to help in the endeavor.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served during the customary social hour.

GLENDOWER SCENE OF COUNTRY FAIR. The grounds of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bradley's home will be filled with the gay trappings of an old-fashioned fair on Saturday, put on by members of St. John's Episcopal Church and Christ Church at Glendower. Fun and frolic, as well as the sale of food and gifts, will be the main attractions.

Mobile X-Ray Clinic Scheduled In Fluvanna County

The Fluvanna County Health Department announced today that the 14 x 17 mobile unit clinic, sponsored by the Fluvanna County Tubercular Association, will be at Palmyra Sept. 21-22.

This unit is principally for those persons who are contacts, that is those who have been directly exposed to tuberculosis; actual cases of tuberculosis and doctor referrals. Anyone who thinks he or she should be examined by the clinic should see his own family physician and if the doctor deems it necessary, he will be given a referral slip.

The fee for this service at the clinic is $1.

Seldon, Perkins Elected To SS Advisory Board

Dr. S. W. Seldon and Roy Perkins, both of Kents Store, were elected to the Southern States local advisory board for the Stage Junction-Kents Store community at the annual meeting of Southern States members for this area held on Wednesday, Sept. 2 at Wilmington. The men will serve three-year terms on the local board.

At the same time, Mrs. W. S. Seldon of Kents Store and Mrs. J. L. Parrish of Wilmington, were chosen for three-year terms on the Stage Junction-Kents Store Farm Home Advisory Committee.

The meeting featured a showing of the Southern States 30th Anniversary movie "WE" which told the story of the cooperative's growth through the life of a typical farmer-member and his family. In addition, a unique "basketball" game was played between teams of men and women, with scoring based on the number of correct answers given by the players to questions about the cooperative, its history, operations, personnel, and facilities. The team in this state making the highest score during the regulation 20-minute period of the game will receive all-expense paid trips for players and coach to the Southern States annual meeting in Richmond, Virginia in November. There the team will compete with winners from other states in the cooperative's territory for the regional championship.

Members of the winning team at the Wilmington meeting were: Mrs. A. H. Kent of Kents Store, Va.; Miss Letha Wade, Miss Samantha Wade, Mrs. Kent Loving, and Mrs. E. M. Wade all of Wilmington, Va.

Fluvanna Agents Honored At Blacksburg Meeting

Miss Katherine T. Omohundro, Home Demonstration Agent, and P. H. France, County Agent in Fluvanna County, had the honor of membership into the Gama Chapter of the Epsilon Sigma Phi Fraternity during the recent conference of Virginia Extension Agents held at Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

Epsilon Sigma Phi is a National Honorary Extension Fraternity, one requirement being ten years of service.

Miss Omohundro was also elected recording secretary of the Virginia Home Demonstration Agents Association, at the annual meeting held during the conference week.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses recorded during the past week in the clerk's office of Nelson Circuit Court were issued to the following persons: Joe Junior Thomas, 26, and Dorothy Louise Campbell, 18; Alex Smith, 22, and June Arlene Campbell, 16.

Girl Scouts Begin New Year Plans Completed

Girl Scout Troop No. 45 and Brownie Troop No. 44 began a new year of Scouting on Tuesday.

The Brownies, under the leadership of Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Jr. and Mrs. Buel Carden, spent the time re-organizing and playing games. There were ten in the group.

The Scouts with Mrs. Gordon Dorrier and Mrs. John Dorrier leading, made out a new roll for the year, and discussed the badges, the individual girls had earned during the summer. Carol Jean Duncan finished, on her own, the second class requirements and at Greenwood Day Camp earned her outdoor cooking badge. Robin Johnson received two badges after attending Albemarle Day Camp. They were for reptile and amphibian and swimming. Aleane Gianiny won two also at Albemarle Day Camp, pioneer and leather. Kit Forsythe earned three, swimming, pioneer and leather. Edna Davis did her rambler badge at day camp and also attended, at the Roanoke Scouts' invitation, Camp Kiwaniana at Shawsville for two weeks.

They planned the completion of the 2nd class requirements for the original Scouts, who have been in the troop since last fall, and hoped to finish them within the next two or three meetings.

The new Scouts, those Brownies who flew up last May, planned a hike and cookout for September 18, working toward 2nd class rank. After the business was finished the troop played some outdoor games.

Seay Family Holds Reunion In Fluvanna

The Seay family held a reunion Sunday, Sept. 6, at the home of Mrs. Bell Seay in Fluvanna County. Tables were set up under the oak trees on the lawn where a bountiful picnic luncheon was enjoyed. Those present included the six children of the late Aaron and Norman Seay with their families besides other relatives.

They were as follows: Mrs. A. W. Stross, Orlando, Fla., Mrs. Wm. C. Proffitt, Scottsville, Mrs. Julia Cleveland, Scottsville, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Seay, Scottsville, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Parr, and daughter, Virginia, Scottsville, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Critzer, Waynesboro, Mr. and Mrs. John Sudarth, Waynesboro, and daughter, Joan, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Reese, Jr., Waynesboro, and children, Mary Margaret and Bill, Mrs. Anita S. McBride, Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. John Lasby, Front Royal, and daughter, Jane, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Atkisson, Buckroe Beach, and T. Wilson Critzer, Newport News.

Plans Completed For Concert Series Membership Drive

Final details for the annual membership drive of the Family Concert Series were completed at a meeting of the James-Rivanna Garden Club on September 1, at the home of Mrs. G. P. Smith, Jr., of Palmyra.

Newly elected officers of the Family Concert Series are as follows: Mrs. G. P. Smith, president; Mrs. J. O. Williams, vice pres.; Mrs. Henry McGhee, secretary; Mrs. Julia Wallace, treasurer; Mrs. R. L. Jennings and Mrs. W. S. Kent, publicity.

The sponsors will begin their membership drive on October 9, and will close on October 19. During this time all memberships, entitling the owners to three different entertainments, will be sold. There will be no tickets sold at the door.

In order to contact persons from all points of Fluvanna County and interested neighboring counties, the sponsors have devised the following plan.

A representative from the James-Rivanna Garden Club will contact or attend meetings of many of the civic organizations of Fluvanna County in order to better acquaint their members with the many opportunities offered by the Family Concert Series. We feel that anyone who knows all details concerning this series will realize that it is truly an experience to be enjoyed by everyone.

The prices for membership to the Family Concert Series will be $3.50 a single person; $6.00 a couple; $8.00 for an entire family, including two adults and any children through college age; and $1.50 for students.

"An annual concert series offers unusual opportunities to the young people of Fluvanna County," said Jack Leopard, Representative of the Family Concert division of the Virginia Symphony Orchestra, Inc. "By attending these concerts and other guild presentations they can develop a discrimination of taste which is an essential mark of education."

There are many communities in our Country where the opportunity does not exist to hear and see, at first hand, outstanding musical artists. There are countless music lovers and students who must travel many miles for the opportunities that are being offered here in Fluvanna County.

An entire family may join the organization, by purchasing a "Family Membership". The obvious advantages of entertainment and self-improvement at a low cost should appeal to all mothers and fathers. The Virginia Symphony Orchestra gives special emphasis to the value of concerts for children.

Today, the love of music and drama are universal, and if we give it the opportunity, will point up our daily physical, moral and spiritual existence.

Those who are interested in purchasing tickets in Scottsville, should contact either Mrs. T. E. Bruce, Mrs. John Moulton or Mrs. R. V. Krouse. It should be emphasized that after October 19, the membership will be officially closed, and tickets will no longer be available.

Cub Scout Meeting

There will be a Cub Scout organizational meeting at Scottsville High School Monday, September 14 at 7:30 p. m. All 8, 9 and 10 year old boys who are interested in joining are invited to come. Parents are urged to attend also. Manning N. Arata, Director of Boy Scouting in this area, will be there to tell the boys about the activities carried on in Cub scouting and will sign them up.

Appalachian Electric Power Co.
Use Sandwich Grill To Pep Up
Party With Hot Hors D'Oeuvres

Add an extra touch of glamour to your next buffet supper by preparing tiny hot hors d'oeuvres on a sandwich grill right at the table or use your grill to keep larger quantities of hors d'oeuvres warm after they have been broiled in the kitchen, and let your guests serve themselves.

You can make the canapes up in advance and store them in the refrigerator, ready for grilling when guests arrive.

General Electric Consumers Institute says the up-to-date sandwich grill features air-cooled plastic feet, so that the table won't be scorched, and the temperature of the grill is thermostatically controlled; allowing the hostess to enjoy her own party without keeping a constant eye on the hors d'oeuvre cookery.

If your porch or patio has a convenience outlet, these sandwich grill recipes will help you add an extra-special touch to outdoor entertaining in the summer, too.

Grilled Swedish Meat Balls
(Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute)

- 1/2 pound ground beef
- 1/4 pound sausage meat
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- Dash of pepper
- 2 teaspoons shortening

Preheat sandwich grill on a high heat. Combine ground beef, sausage meat, parsley, onion, salt, mustard and pepper in medium size bowl; toss lightly to blend. Form seasoned meat into small bite-size balls. Open sandwich grill grids out flat. Melt 1 teaspoon shortening on each grid. Grill meat balls until browned, turning frequently. Serve on cocktail toothpicks. Makes about 36 meat balls.

Roquefort Rollups
(Tested in the G-E Consumers Institute)

- 1/2 cup Roquefort cheese, crumbled
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 8 frankfurters
- 5-6 slices lean bacon

Preheat sandwich grill on a high heat. Mash Roquefort cheese with a fork until finely crumbled. Add minced onion, salt and Worcestershire sauce; blend thoroughly. Slit frankfurters down the center lengthwise and fill slit with cheese mixture. Cut each frankfurter crosswise in five pieces. Cut bacon slices in approximately 1 1/2-inch squares. Put a square of bacon over the cheese side of each frankfurter slice. Roll around sides and fasten with a cocktail toothpick. Open sandwich grill grids out flat. Place Roquefort Rollups on grids and cook until bacon is crisp and brown, turning occasionally, 5-8 minutes. Makes 40 bite-size Roquefort Rollups.

Ramblings

We don't know when the change in weather has been so welcome. Almost overnight, everything looked better. The air cleared and cooled after the rain, and for the first time for many weeks, we could see all the shades of blue and green on the mountains across from us. Drooping leaves and flowers lifted their heads, the grass seems to have taken a new lease on life, and the restful, cloudy days did all some good. There is something exhausting about constant sunshine, just as there is about constant gloomy days in winter. Variety is much better, to my thinking.

While there are plenty of warm, sunny days ahead, the crisp smell of fall is in the air toward evening, and anyone who has postponed his or her vacation until after Labor Day is both smart and lucky. Tourist crowds will have thinned out, and the cooler weather gives us more of a zest for adventure. Even a drive around the countryside shows the advance of the season and new developments since a week or so ago. The apples are showing red along the boughs of the apple trees, the green grass on the roadside is speckled with yellow leaves, the honeysuckle is blooming again, and shocks of corn are beginning to appear here and there (where there is any that survived the drought.)

In time for a tour during this lovely season comes the fifth volume of the American Travel Series, a Guide to Washington, D. C., Virginia and Maryland, which can be found in any bookstore. One could go by it and spend many vacations just within its bounds and always find something new and interesting. In addition to clear road maps, the text is interesting to read even if you are not going anywhere. There is detailed feature material on many Virginia towns in this area, such as Charlottesville, Fredericksburg, Richmond, Williamsburg and Roanoke. An unusual feature is a brief history and description of each Civil War battlefield. Another useful highlight is the article on state and regional park areas with a mile by mile description of the journey along the scenic Blue Ridge Parkway and the Skyline Drive.

Because we live here, we may think we know enough of our environs, but when a visitor comes and asks about the towns and mountains, it usually makes one wish to know where some authentic information could be found. Here, also, is the answer to questions about where to stay, where to eat, how much it costs. These travel facilities are described according to merit, since there is no advertising in the book. If you plan to travel in the Virginia-to-Washington area, and want to know what there is to see and how best to get there, then here is the answer.

More Than 40 Forest Fires Reported In District

More than forty forest fires have been reported in the Virginia Forest Service Charlottesville District during July and August. These fires have been small in size but very troublesome to control, District Forester D. G. Wilfong, Jr., reported. The average size fire was approximately three acres in size. To control and extinguish these off-season fires it has been necessary to spend many man-hours in constructing and trenching a fire line around the perimeter of each fire, he said.

When fires have burned, all the vegetation and trees have been killed and many fires have crossed constructed fire breaks by burning below ground, making each fire more difficult to control.

The counties reporting the largest number of fires have been Albemarle, Louisa, Fluvanna and Spotsylvania.

Plans are being made by each of the Chief Forest wardens in the sixteen county Charlottesville Forest Service District to train Keep Virginia Green crews in county high schools. These K. V. G. crews have been trained and used

This demonstration was worth many hundreds of dollars to me!

I thought only a higher-priced car would suit me. But then I found out how much more Chevrolet offered for how much less!

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel!

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gear-shift models offer the advanced 108-h.p. "Thrift-King" engine.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response

—right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

Let us demonstrate all the advantages of buying a Chevrolet now!

They're Not Sleeping Over There

Looking out over our friendly hills, a skywatcher knows that over there, across the world, there is a country not so friendly to us. He knows that our homeland is only a plane's flight away from that country.

By watching the skies over Scottsville, Madge Spencer is helping to keep America safe from enemy bombs out of the sky. Will a plane — or a flight of planes — flying over Scottsville ever reach its target and drop its deadly load on Washington or New York, Pittsburgh or Oak Ridge?

It is a terrible, chilling thought, and you think of it as you watch the skies. You are glad you are there . . . together with thousands of others — men and women, young and old, all over America, watching and listening. Your warning could be the word that would send up American jet fighters to save our cities and defense plants from destruction.

Since the Korean Armistice, there has been a let-down in volunteers for duty on our air watch. This is too bad. A let-down in American civil defense might be just what the Communists are hoping for. Many of our military men think that the time is even more critical now than during the Korean fighting. Russia is building jet planes and A-Bombs. Russia has exploded the dreaded H-Bomb.

Now, more than ever before, America needs your eyes and ears on the air watch. It is not a time to fall asleep in Scottsville . . . they're not sleeping over there.

TIDBITS

By Nancy D. Dorrier

Labor Day seems to be the time for a general exodus or influx from and to Scottsville, as the mood happens to hit Scottsvillians ... at any rate, practically everybody seemed either to have company or be off on some trip or other this particular Labor Day.

Helen Kelso and her daughter, Becca, came to town the other morning for the day, then back home until Sunday, when they came back to pick up Agnes and Jack Beal (Mother and father) and headed for Vienna to see sister Jackie and her husband and children over the holiday.

Saturday night a group gathered to have a cooperative supper at Endfield, the home of Chick and Shirley Dorrier. They cooked hamburgers outdoors, in spite of fairly inclement weather off and on. The party was a little different from the run of the mill affair because Kitty and J. C. Richards, sister and brother-in-law of Elmer Johnson, were down here from New York, and were spending the week-end with Elmer and Adele.

Bobby and Esther King must like the food down at Langley because they seem to go down quite often to see the senior King. Went again this week-end. They left Friday afternoon and didn't come back until Tuesday.

Gert Moore had some very nice company for a long week-end. Her mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blackwelder of Rich Creek, came last Wednesday and stayed until Sunday.

Louise Philpot had a delightful party Wednesday night, four tables of bridge with the usual perfection of food and hospitality.

Liz Goodwin, Chick and Shirley Dorrier left Sunday morning to spend the day and night with Jim and Brent Dorrier, who are well established in their new home in Martinsville. It's the first visit of any of the Dorrier clan to see the new house. They were most excited over the prospect.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kershaw of Hampton were the week-end guests of Emma Lou and Raymond Thacker. They came up to get Mrs. Kershaw's son, Buddy Hudson, who has been visiting the Thackers for two weeks.

Ann Paulett, who left last week-end for Richmond, where she will teach second grade this year, spent last week-end at Winchester at the home of her cousins, the Lichtlers, to attend the wedding of Miss Virginia Piffer. She expected to return to Richmond late Monday afternoon. She only has to teach from 9 a.m. until 1:30! What a lark.

Ruby and Harold Parr left Sunday morning to visit Mrs. Ansel Burkett at Rural Retreat. They returned on Tuesday. Betty Jean Parr, their daughter, who has been staying home since July, is planning to go back to Charlottesville next week. The heat must have been too much for her too.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Carver of Arlington will spend the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Epperson to retrieve their mother and daughter, Margaret, who has been staying with the Eppersons all summer. Mrs. Carver is the former Miss Virginia Epperson.

Mrs. Cary N. Moon of Shirland has had as her guest for the past week Mrs. Reeve Nicholas, Sr. from Richmond. Mrs. Nicholas expects to return to Richmond on Wednesday.

Ann and Floyd Johnson and their children spent Sunday and Monday up at their new summer lodge. Ann says they are working...

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Calderwood and their two children, Johnny and Gail, left Esmont, where they have a summer home, and returned to Washington after having spent the entire summer here.

Mrs. John L. Pitts of Bellahaven left Thursday for a visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Pitts in Bloomfield, N. J. John came down on Sunday to pick her up. She will be gone for several weeks.

Ruby and Buel Carden and their two, Pat and Butch, spent the long week-end in Burlington. Planned to come back on Monday night.

Sunday Martha and Merrill Carter and Kent went to Orange to spend the day with Martha's mother and daddy, Mr. and Mrs. Kent.

Edna and Bill Davidson and their little girl left Tuesday to be gone the remainder of the week, visiting Bill's mother at Rustburg. Will come back on Sunday.

Hazel Dorrier's mother, Mrs. J. H. Clevinger, has been visiting there for the past few days. She arrived on Thursday and left on Tuesday. On Monday Hazel and Ed took Irene and went to Richmond for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Covington of Summerhill, Howardsville, had as their week-end guest Mrs. Carlton Garrette of Lynchburg. She came for a nice long week-end, arrived on Thursday, and stayed until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Vest went to Lynchburg on Sunday, all Mr. West would say was that they were just wandering around, seeing different people and things.

Lois and Mrs. Campbell Holt took off for a week-end's visit to Lois' brother in Bristol, Tenn.

Dr. and Mrs. Percy Harris and daughters, Mary and Sue, were here for the week-end. For Sue, it was the climax of a week's vacation during which she made the circuit through North and South Carolina, visiting friends in Raleigh and Greensboro, and brother Percy in Camden. She returned to Richmond Monday afternoon — Back to the salt mines!

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Leap, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Leap and their children, Jerry and Steve from Waynesboro were guests on Sunday. On Monday, Catherine Leap and Mary Glover and son Bobby, all of Charlottesville, were here for the day.

Miss Alice White of Durham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. White, was here visiting her mother and father from Friday until Sunday. On Saturday, Lt. and Mrs. Edward White from Edgewood, Md. arrived to stay until Monday.

A truly delightful Virginia custom was re-enacted Sunday at Appomattox when the Jr. and Sr. Ray Caldwell's attended their family reunion at the old home place there. Over a 100 members came and they had the most remarkable spread that they had ever seen; meats of every description, pies, cakes, hot rolls and delicacies of all kinds. Mr. Caldwell's brother-in-law, Robert Caldwell and daughters, Sarah, of Salisbury, N. C. came up to accompany the Ray Caldwell's to the reunion. He won the prize for being the oldest member of the member of the family attending. Age: 91!

Scottsville was well represented at the wedding Saturday at St. Paul's in Richmond of Miss Elizabeth O'Brien, niece of Miss Rosa Gibbs. Attending from here was Miss Rosa and her two adopted sons, Percy and James Beverly. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Castiel of Green Hill Farm, Howardsville, and Mrs. W. T. Miller.

Rose Mae Cohen's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Hogan and their son, Tommy, visited the Cohens over the week-end, Friday through Monday. The Hogans, who hail from Bethesda, Md. spent Saturday touring Monticello and Ash Lawn. Sunday, the Cohens and the Hogans rode through Charlottesville.

Miss Virginia Lee Thacker Of Scottsville Becomes Bride Of Sgt. N. S. Velasco

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Daniel was the setting for the wedding of Miss Virginia Lee Thacker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Raymond Thacker of Scottsville and Sgt. Nelson Salvador Velasco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francisco M. Velasco of New York City, Saturday, August 29 at 3 p. m. Mr. Daniel officiated at the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a pale blue faille suit with navy accessories, and wore a purple orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained the out-of-town guests at their home with a small informal dinner. The bridal couple left shortly afterward for the Eastern shore, where they expected to stay for several days.

Mrs. Velasco was graduated from Scottsville High School in 1952, and since that time has been employed by the Director of Division of Motor Vehicles in Richmond. Sgt. Velasco, who is at present stationed at Camp Pickett in the Medical Replacement Training Center has served with the army for three years of overseas duty, one of which was spent in Korea. He was graduated from Morris High School, Bronx, New York.

Sgt. and Mrs. Velasco plan to make their home in New York following his discharge in February.

SERVING THE PEOPLE OF THE TOWN OF SCOTTSVILLE AND THE NEIGHBORING COMMUNITIES IN ALBEMARLE, FLUVANNA AND BUCKINGHAM COUNTIES

Effective Enforcement Needed

Strong local enforcement measures are being urged as one of the main efforts in the nation's endeavor to reduce the toll of traffic accidents. This should and must include action against violations sometimes regarded as "trivial." Certainly no offense is "minor" when it costs a life or injures someone and in the course of a year these so-called "minor" violations of traffic laws costs hundreds of lives and injure thousands in street and highway accidents.

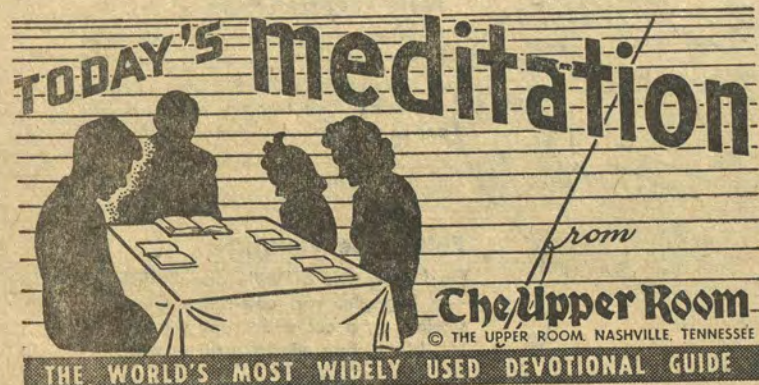

It makes sense to direct the greater part of our enforcement effort against the more flagrant offenders—the speeders and the drinking drivers who cause far more than half of the fatal and serious accidents. But other traffic law violators should not be overlooked by the police, because their contribution to the grisly record is higher than most people realize.

Consider, for instance, the driver who fails to observe a "stop" sign or to yield the right-of-way to another vehicle or a pedestrian. One death in every ten, and 27 of every 100 injuries, in traffic accidents are caused by this type of driver. Such offenses, regarded as "minor" by millions of motorists, cost 2,800 lives and injured 325,000 others last year. At rural intersections alone, the victims of such drivers have tripled and their toll of injured has multiplied 10 times in the last two decades.

"Cutting in" caused another 200 deaths and 30,000 injuries in 1950. Reckless driving cost more than 2,300 lives and injured over 100,000 persons, while drivers who passed cars on the wrong side killed nearly 1,000 more and injured over 100,000 persons. These losses are colossal rather than "trivial" and the police should treat the drivers who cause them accordingly. A marked reduction in highway casualties may be achieved if the police make examples of all drivers who ignore the rules of common courtesy and safety and let the courts decide how serious they were.

We know that all things work together for good to them that love God. (Romans 8:28.— Read Romans 8:26-28.)

At the beginning of the nineteenth century, the African continent was unconsciously witnessing a great event. Colonists were weaving their way across hundreds of miles of uncharted land. Among them was Paul Kruger, a boy of ten, a future president of the Transvaal Republic. The moving cavalcade clashed with a native tribe. A native slave boy, Magata, escaped and fled southward.

He became influenced by a pioneer missionary. Soundly converted, he desired to return to the Transvaal in order to preach the Gospel. Arriving there, he was bound to a wagon, flogged, and expelled from the province.

In his wanderings, he heard of the President of the Republic, Paul Kruger, who at the age of ten had been one of the colonists in the Great Trek. Magata wrote to him. The president granted him sanctuary in the Transvaal. Joyfully, Magata returned to establish the first Society, from which small beginning great things have been done there for God.

PRAYER

Limited though my gifts may be, O God, I offer myself to be witness for Thee. Grant me fruit for Thee through labor. So teach me new joys in the adventure of living for Thee. Through Christ, my Saviour. Amen.

Country Lawyer

By Walter Johnson

For long the school situation in Virginia has been far from a happy one. The main reason is that the people are shut off from participation in the management and direction of the schools. Now the entire school system from the top man in Richmond down through the line to the last bus driver or school janitor are appointees. Each and every one is selected for instead of by the people and all policy and every method is determined for instead of by the people.

In Virginia cities the school board members are selected by the city councils. In the counties the school board members are selected by the school trustees and who, in turn, are selected by the Circuit Judge and who, in his turn, is selected in Richmond. There is one exception in that the people of Arlington County raised so much fuss that the General Assembly by special act has permitted the people of that county to elect their school board.

Thus, except for Arlington County, the people are completely shut off from one of the most important parts of their government. The schools consume by far the greater portion of the taxes paid locally. The function of the schools is to educate the children of the people. Whether or not school money is used to the best advantage and whether the children are getting the measure and type of education that they ought to have is a question that is very close to the people.

As a general rule the men and women appointed to our various school boards are able people. There is no question about that. But good men are better men when they know exactly where they stand; when they serve through election by a majority of the people and know that the people approve and support them.

Persons who have deep interest in the schools and who have confidence in and respect for their fellow-citizens and the collective judgment of the people have long urged restoration to the people of the right and power to elect their school boards. That has been the position of public spirited citizens of both major political parties and it is the right position by every standard of right and wrong and by every standard of good government.

At his nomination for Governor Senator Ted Dalton advanced a platform builded out of the planks advocated for many years by the thinking people of both parties. One of these planks was advocacy of elected school boards.

Then Richmond newspapers took a hand in the matter. In these ivory towers the editorial thinking is along the line of what the people should do rather than along the line of what the people should be permitted to do. As a result we have editorial advocacy of the half-way measure offered by State Senator Harry F. Byrd, Junior of Winchester. This proposal would be a minor concession to the people by permitting the Boards of Supervisors to name the members of the school boards.

To this Senator Dalton gave half-hearted assent as a step in the right direction but he retained his stand for elected school boards.

If we are to liberate our schools we should go all the way and put the schools back into the hands of the people where they belong and get the schools out from under the control and direction of appointees. This can be done and it should be done.

Selection of school boards by the Boards of Supervisors would be an improvement but it would be a very slight one. The two boards should be kept independent of each other so that they can work together in the common good. It is fundamental that the power to appoint is the power to control or at least influence. Hence a school board appointed by the Board of Supervisors would be expected to lack in the sense of responsibility that it should have.

Events through the years have clearly proven that little or no relief from the upsidedown school situation can be expected from the Democrat party so long as the party accepts and permits direction and control by a very small group generally known as the machine. It is the way of things that the machine, in every society, stays in control by avoiding concessions to the people. The machine will control the party and the party will control the people until such time as the people are ready to look past party labels and into the issues behind the labels.

The Meanderer

Nothing could have been more welcome than the change in the weather that came over last weekend. Whether the rain brought the cooler atmosphere or the cooler air brought the rain, we don't know. All we know is that both conditions have made everything and everybody take on a new look. Of course we need more rain, lots of it, but at least the break in the tortuous heat and drought will come back eventually; nothing much can be done about the loss of crops at this point, and it has been a severe loss.

Throughout the length and breadth of the drought areas the question of water supply has been foremost. Many cities have been harried with the problem of water. All over the country new sources of supply are being studied, and it should be more than obvious to all of us that something is wrong. Even with the increased use of pure water by large industries and home consumption by more and more people, it is more the failure to use wisely what water is available rather than any real lack of this most important resource. Big dams do not seem to be the answer to the question; they have

Farmers To Elect State Committeemen

In a Statewide Election to be held on September 25, Virginia farmers will choose committeemen from their own numbers to administer programs of the production and marketing administration.

It is likely that committeemen of the production and marketing administration will have the responsibility of administering more marketing quota programs than have ever operated at one time in Virginia, State PMA Chairman P. A. Lewis said today.

Already marketing quota programs are in operation on five types of tobacco, peanuts, wheat, and preliminary steps have been taken with the prospect of cotton acreage controls. The decision on controlling next year's corn acreage hinges on the size of the crop this fall.

In urging farmers to get out and vote in the September 25 elections, Lewis said, "The establishment of farm acreage allotments and general supervision of quota programs is a very important duty of PMA committeemen. Decisions which they make may have a far-reaching effect. In addition to quota program activity, a very sizeable price support program, especially on wheat and corn appears likely. These programs, together with the 1954 agricultural conservation program, will require the highest calibre administration. Farmers themselves can afford such administration by electing qualified committeemen.

Thomas W. Payne, Fluvanna PMA county office manager, will announce the time and places of voting in Fluvanna County. As is customary, the election will be by secret ballot.
