Fluvanna Adds Many Farm Fish Ponds

Fluvanna farmers and many of the Future Farmers of America who are now pursuing courses under the supervision of George B. Troxler, vocational agriculture teacher at the Fluvanna County High School at Carysbrook, have long felt the need for a supplementary source of food supply. As a result of the recognition of this need Fluvanna County has experienced a boom in the construction of farm fish ponds. There are now some thirty odd ponds in operation, one third of this number having been constructed during the year 1951.

Henry McGehee, the County Soil Conservationist, has been instrumental in not only supervising the construction of these projects but also has aided in the stocking and fertilizing of same.

One of the most recent projects to be constructed under the supervision of Mr. McGehee was that of Roy Loving. Roy's pond, which consists of approximately one acre, has a watershed of about 20 acres of wooded and sodded land. This project was completed in August 1951. In October, it was stocked with bream. He plans to add bass in April. These fish were supplied by the U. S. Government.

One day recently, Roy, with the assistance of members of his agriculture class and under the supervision of George B. Troxler and Henry McGehee, went about the work of fertilizing his farm fish pond. It was pointed out at the demonstration by Mr. McGehee that Roy's pond should produce 150 to 150 lbs. of fish without any fertilization. However, if the pond was properly managed and fertilized, it should yield 300 to 450 lbs. per year.

The farm fish pond will not only serve as a source of additional food supply but it will also contribute to the recreational aspects of farming. Many are the pleasures to be gained from it, and it is the hope that it will be one means by which it will be possible to keep the boys home on the farm.

Fluvanna Garden Club To Present Flowers On Parade Next Wednesday

Flowers on Parade, a show presented by the Fluvanna Garden Club, will be held at Fluvanna Lake (Route 15 between Palmyra and Carysbrook) next Wednesday, it has been announced by Mrs. W. J. Smith, president.

Charlie L. Scott

Fort Dix, N. J. — Charlie L. Scott of Scottsville has arrived here and has been assigned to Co. H., 39th Inf. Regiment of the 9th Infantry Division for 16 weeks of basic training.

Private Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Scott of Route 2, Scottsville.

Prior to entering service Private Scott attended Scottsville High School.

During his training period he will receive instruction in general military subjects, infantry weapons and tactics as well as a character guidance program which is under the supervision of the Post Chaplain. Upon completion of his basic training he will be eligible for consideration to receive additional instruction in a leadership course and may submit application to attend Officer Candidate School.

Easter Sunrise Service Scheduled At Howardsville

The Howardsville Methodist Church will hold its annual Sunrise Service again this year at Monticola at 5:29 a.m. with the Rev. J. Aubrey Hughes delivering the sermon.

The Rev. Mr. Hughes is the district superintendent of the Charlottesville District of the Methodist Church. Many will remember him as the one who gave the 100th Anniversary address at the church last summer, the Rev. Jack B. Taylor stated this week.

Monticola is the home of Miss Emily Notting located near Mt. Alto outside of Howardsville. This estate was pictured in the film, Virginia, made a few years ago. The public is invited to attend the Easter morn service there.

New Town Water Pump Is Installed

Installation of the new water pump, which furnishes the supply of river water to the town of Scottsville, was completed yesterday. Dr. Percy Harris, mayor of the town, stated that the installation took two days, and the town was not completely without water, but the citizens were asked to cut the use of it to a minimum during this time.

He said that the old water pump, which is badly worn, will be overhauled and kept for emergency use.

The pump is operated by Charlie Ledingham.

Gospel Singers To Appear At Baptist Church Sunday

The Jones Chapel Gospel singers will be at Fox Memorial Baptist Church on Sunday, April 20, at 7:30 o'clock.

The public is invited. This quartet can be heard over station W.F.L.O. each Sunday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock.

Scottsville Man Injured In Automobile Accident

S. D. Farrish, 19, of Scottsville, was admitted to the University Hospital early Sunday morning following a wreck on Route 6 in which his car was demolished. He was treated for a collapsed lung and scalp and eye lacerations and is reported in satisfactory condition.

Deputy Sheriff C. R. Marshall said Farrish's car, which was headed east, left the road about three miles from Scottsville, jumped a 15-foot creek, somersaulted, and came to a stop in a field.

Marshall said no charges have been brought in this wreck.

Revival Speaker

Dr. W. K. Haddock

Holy Week Revival at the Scottsville Methodist Church will begin Sunday night at 8 o'clock and continue each evening except Saturday through Easter Sunday night, Rev. Jack B. Taylor announced today.

The public is invited to attend services and hear Dr. W. K. Haddock, who will be the guest speaker at these services next week.

Cancer Campaign Workers Selected For County Drive

Workers and officers of the Fluvanna Chapter of the American Cancer Society met last Thursday in the home of the 1952 campaign manager, P. H. France, to make plans for the fund raising drive which will run for two weeks, starting April 14.

Red Connor was elected vice-president of the chapter.

Ralph Beveridge, field representative for this district, was present to talk about the cancer program. While April is the month for receiving funds for the society, he said, the main purpose of the program is education and cancer control. He stressed that the program should be a 12-month one and the association was planning three other meetings.

Mr. Beveridge will speak before the Fluvanna Rural Club on Monday night, April 20, a county wide meeting of the women will be held in the summer, and the cancermobile, a $20,000 memorial to Mrs. Eley, a cancer victim, will be invited to the county fair at Carysbrook in October. He told of the three-fold purpose of cancer work—research, educational and financial.

On the local level, the society helps out with funds for loan closets, bandages, x-rays, three-day out patient care, help with clinic costs, supplementary aid to the welfare department for indigent patients. The Bessie Dunn Miller Detection Center is available to all at a nominal fee. Movies and literature can be secured at any time from Miss Wallace Heard, chairman of the educational committee.

Workers in Fluvanna county for the 1952 campaign are:

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hasher, Troy; Mrs. Charlie Halterman, Mrs. Ruth Patterson, Mrs. Henry McGehee, Miss Lucille Conner, Mrs. Ralph Houghton, Mrs. P. H. France, Palmyra; Mrs. White Wilson, Bybee; Mrs. J. T. Proffitt, Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Forstbauer Boyd's Tavern; Miss Jean Thomas, Miss Jane Glass, Mrs. Louise Kelly, Mrs. C. A. Sewell, Fork Union; Mrs. C. J. Perkins, Miss Marguerite Watkins, Richard Payne; Kents Store; Mrs. E. C. Browning, Mrs. Gordon Gentry, Scottsville.

Mrs. Douglas L. Folkes, of Wilmington will handle the publicity for the 1952 campaign.

$650 Contributed To Red Cross Johnson Reports

Elmer Johnson, chairman of the Red Cross fund drive in the Scottsville area announced today that a total of $650 has been collected in this part of the county.

A quota of $38,000 has been named for the county of Albemarle and Charlottesville. This is an increase over last year because of the increasing need of the soldiers overseas. Recently, said Mr. Johnson, an additional assessment of $1500 was made by the Red Cross to serve the southern states hit by the disastrous tornado. Because of this, the drive will extend beyond the regular time, and contributions will be taken until next week.

Mr. Johnson urges that all those who have not contributed, as well as those who can afford an extra donation, get in touch with him over the weekend and help swell the fund to serve those whose homes and possessions were lost by wind and storm.

Scottsville High Nine Trounces Broadus Wood

Scottsville High School baseball team opened its 1952 season April 1, with a 9-3 victory over Broadus Wood High School. The local nine won the game in the top of the first inning when two walks and three hits produced a total of four runs.

Billy Moon was impressive on the mound, allowing four hits in seven innings. Wallace Ferneyhough pitched the last two innings and gave up a single and a double. Ferneyhough also led the winners at bat, collecting three hits in four attempts.

Scottsville Firemen Help

A frame building at Sprouse's Corner, at the intersection of Routes 60 and 15, between Dillwyn and Buckingham Courthouse, was destroyed by fire at an early hour Wednesday morning.

On the ground floor was a restaurant and beer parlor, operated by Joe Moss, and in the second story was an apartment, which was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

The blaze was discovered by occupants of a filling station across the highway about 4 o'clock. Trucks from the Buckingham Volunteer Fire Department at Dillwyn, and the Scottsville and Farmville Fire Departments responded to calls but were too late to save the building.

The building, owned by Mrs. Walter Maxey of Dillwyn, was valued at $10,000. The loss is only partially covered by insurance.

Oppose Use Of Rifles

A delegation from the Scottsville District of Albemarle County Friday asked the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries to forbid use of highpowered rifles in the county.
 The commission held a two-day meeting in Charlottesville.
 I. T. Quinn, executive director, said no action had been taken on any requests.

George C. Omohundro, a spokesman for the Scottsville delegation, told the commission that hunting with high-powered rifles was a hazard to life and livestock in Albemarle. The county has a number of livestock farms.
 Harry Michael, Charlottesville attorney, spoke for a group in favor of continued use of high-powered rifles.
 Rifles are used in Albemarle only for deer hunting as there is no bear hunting in the county. It was brought out at the hearing that there has been no human fatality from a hunter's rifle in the past 15 or 20 years.
 A resolution from the Albemarle County Board of Supervisors asking that no loaded firearms be permitted on county highways was presented to the commission at Friday's hearing.

how many electric appliances do you have?
 10? 18? 20? 6?
If you guess within ten... you're GOOD!
 It's a fact: most people use electricity for far more things than they're aware of!
 Just try to guess, offhand, how many appliances you use. Then actually count 'em. (The check list at right will be a help.)
 Surprised? Most everyone is... for few families own fewer than 15 or 20 appliances; many have 50 or 60! And farms and industries, as well as homes, are making greater use of electricity today than ever before.
 To keep up with this ever-growing demand for electric power—to have facilities for making it at hand in advance of need—American Gas and Electric System, companies doubled their power-producing capacity in just ten years. New plants and additions now under construction will add another 1,150,000 kilowatts by the middle of 1954. Then, with a total of 4,019,000 kilowatts, the System will just about have tripled its capacity since the start of World War II.
 And this is interesting too: because families are using more electricity, because new facilities and methods are so efficient, most every householder gets more electricity for his money today than he did twenty years ago!

Record Travel Year

All indications point to a record year of travel this Spring and Summer. On one day, in the month of March, more than 4,600 passengers departed from New York by ship for European ports. This indicates the extent of American overseas travel expected this year.

Officials say the departure of this number of passengers in one day, as early as March constitutes a new record for overseas travel. Meanwhile, automobile clubs announce that 1952 is expected to be a record year for travel on the highways of the United States.

These indications, added to the reduced airline fares to Europe and other points, are conclusive proof that this is to be a record travel year. Airline passenger fare reductions go into effect on May 1st. The only thing which will somewhat mar this record vacation traffic is the collective tragedy of death on the highways and skyways which is sure to occur.

The slaughter on our highways today is largely unnecessary and perhaps the greatest blight on our otherwise super-modern civilization. The best solution at present seems to lie in better driver qualification laws, stricter permit tests, more strictly enforced highway regulations and appeals to the public for safer driving practices. The appeal to drivers to adopt more cautious and safer driving practices is especially timely on the eve of the biggest vacation spree ever witnessed in the United States. Even the best vacation is a flop when one or more of the vacationers fail to return home, due to an automobile accident.

Country Lawyer

By Walter Johnson

The very bread of our Republic is the form of self-government is the suffrage of the people. Too few people exercise that right. Too many want to ride along without taking the trouble to participate in government by going to the polls and helping by voting their individual judgment.

Because we have only half-cared about our government we have permitted: Questionable characters to prosper on RFC booty, tax collectors to flourish in cahoots with big tax dollars, communists to occupy vital federal jobs, thieves to rake off with government-owned grain, criminals to fatten on alliances, dope peddlers to contaminate our children, gangsters to control sports in many instances, bureaucracy to pump us full of propaganda by radio, our children to be denied the high feeling of pride that comes with knowledge of our history and the basic concepts of our form of government, and imposition of a back-breaking tax burden upon our people.

In mentioning "half-cared" we mean that only about one-half of the people have participated in government by voting. All should vote. Probably there is no other voice in our life where such complete equality exists as in the voting booth. There the vote of the most humble citizen counts exactly as much as does that of the most prominent citizen.

Here in Virginia two things must be done before a citizen can vote. That citizen must be registered and his or her poll tax must be paid. The pitfall or trap to catch the unwary is the fact the poll tax must be paid for 3 years and it must be paid six months before election time.

As election this year will be on November 4th the poll tax must be paid on or before May 3rd. If you are chargeable with the poll tax for the last three years you should check immediately with your County Treasurer. If it isn't paid then pay it. Even if you owe for three years the total, with penalties, should be under $5.00 to get in good standing. No matter how much you detest the proposition that the Commonwealth of Virginia should sell you the right to vote the fact remains that you, as a citizen, must humbly buy that very fundamental right.

Even after you have bought the right to vote from your state government you must take one more step. This is tricky too but not too difficult if you understand it.

In registering you must apply in your handwriting, for registration. The registrar may hand you a pencil and sheet of blank paper and then refuse to say another word to you. The law says you must state certain specified facts on that paper. If you do not know these facts which are required you cannot put them on the paper and cannot register. Probably you do not have the law available to study.

Here is a form that seems to comply with the law. Clip it and memorize it by substituting facts applicable to you such as name, age and residence.

"My name is John Doe; my age is 35 years; I was born March 10, 1917; my place of birth is Richmond, Virginia; my residence is 625 Blank Street, Richmond, Virginia; my occupation now and for the past two years has been bank clerk; I have previously voted and my last vote was cast in blank precinct in blank county in the state of Virginia."

In other words the applicant must apply in his own handwriting, without aid, suggestion or memorandum, in the presence of the registrar stating therein his name, age, date, and place of birth, residence, and occupation at the time and for the two years next preceding, and whether he has previously voted and if so the state, county and precinct in which he last voted.

It is wrong that you should be required to buy the right to vote from the Commonwealth of Virginia. It is also wrong that registration should be purposely made so difficult. But that is the law imposed upon us by those we choose to represent us in our state law-making body. It will remain the law until enough of us vote and are able to select representatives more considerate of the people of Virginia. The general assembly should run a bulldozer along the road to the voting booth and clear out the inexcusable obstacles now in the path.

Noah's Ark was built of gopher wood.

To The Editor:

Surveys are now being made for Route 15 through Fluvanna. This highway is to have a right of way of 110 feet. This right of way will be taken by the state as part of the state twenty year plan for the development of Virginia highways.

In 1949 Route 15 through Fluvanna was adopted as a War Memorial to the Veterans of World Wars I and II. This route was selected as a War Memorial because of the fact that Route 15, being the only Federal highway in the county, would be the most important highway in the county.

Question: Do you want to attract tourists to Fluvanna?
Answer: Of course, because tourists spend money in a county.

Question: What attracts tourists and makes them stop in a county and spend money.
Answer: An attractive highway, a place where they will want to stop and look.

Question: But aren't tourists going through anyway on a large Federal Highway?
Answer: Of course, but that's just the point — we want them not only to go through, but to stop and spend money. No tourist stops in an ugly spot if they can help it; tourists do drive slowly to enjoy attractive scenery and a highway that has been beautified.

Question: How can we have an attractive War Memorial Highway and yet not work a hardship on our Fluvanna business firms and farmers?
Answer: By getting our business men and farmers to put their large signs back from the highway a distance of 25 feet, where they can be seen and yet where they will not mar the looks of the War Memorial Highway. In other words, keep our advertising signs but keep them the required distance from the Memorial Highway. In this way, there will be no hardship on the advertisers — their signs can be seen from this distance; and no hardship on the War Memorial Highway either, which will not be marred by having large signs too close to it.

Any Citizen of Fluvanna Asks Some Questions.
Question: What about my small signs — could my small business sign be set 25 feet from the edge of the highway, i.e. 80 feet from the center of the highway?
Answer: No, of course not, but you don't have to put small signs 25 feet from the edge of the highway. You can put your small sign (the ordinance says 3 small signs having a total area not to exceed 60 square feet for the three) at the edge of the highway.

Question: How can I prevent someone having a junk-yard right next to my property, which would certainly decrease the value of my property?
Answer: The Zoning Ordinance takes care of this for you, and protects your property from having an unsightly junk-yard parked next to it.

Question: Then is the War Memorial Highway and the Zoning Ordinance an advantage to me by bringing more tourists, by causing tourists to drive slowly, to enjoy the beauty of the highway, and so read my signs?
Answer: Indeed, the Memorial Highway and the Zoning Ordinance are a real business advantage to you. Here is the way it works: Attractive highway — tourist drives slowly to enjoy beauty of highway — tourist looks around — tourist sees and reads your sign (a big one 25 feet from the edge of the highway) — tourist stops to buy gas at your filling station, or cattle at your farm, or apples or peaches at your orchard.

Question: Say, then, it looks like this War Memorial Highway and Zoning Ordinance idea is going to give me a lot of good advertising, isn't it? You know I've been thinking it was a lot of bunk — it's really a pretty smart State and County set-up to make my County more attractive, to help me advertise my business. You can't beat Old Flu-Boy, Let me go see my Supervisor, but quick, and tell him to keep this Memorial Highway and Zoning Ordinance idea going, so that NOBODY can mess up my war memorial Highway and my Fluvanna county.

Question: But look here, I've been planning to build a store right close to the present edge of Route 15, my land runs right up to the present edge of Route 15 — you mean to tell me that a bunch of guys can come stomping on to my property and tell me I've got to put my store back a certain distance from the highway when it's my OWN LAND I want to build it on?
Answer: Look, pal, you've got this thing wrong. It's not a bunch of guys in Fluvanna who can tell you this. Before any man, woman or child in Fluvanna County or any Board of Supervisors thought of any ordinance, your State Legislature, at the request of your State Highway Department, decided that the right-of-way of Route 15 was going to be 110 feet wide, and you know when the State sets a right of way, they don't do too much asking, they take the right of way, very politely and legally, but they take it. And if you build your store, or what have you, up to the present edge of the highway, it just means that either during your lifetime or during the lifetime of that kid of yours that you count on leaving your store to, the State is going to come along, tap you or your kid on the shoulder and say "How come your store is sitting so close to the highway that it comes within the 110 feet the State decided was going to be in this highway? Mighty sorry, but you've got to be moved back."

So you see, the ordinance is for your protection — what it really says to you is: "Danger — watch out, don't come too close to this highway with your building — don't you know this is the highway that the State says will require 110 feet right-of-way. Listen, be a wise guy and put your store (or your permanent pasture, or your fish pond, or your orchard, or your barn, or your house) back outside this area, and then you, kind won't say some day, "Gee, I wish my old man had been smart and put this store (or what have you) back far enough in the beginning so the State wouldn't have to come along and move me out. Wonder why my Dad didn't find out about this to start with? But I guess in those days they didn't have a Zoning Ordinance to warn a fella here he could put his business or his house and know that it could stay put there for keeps," and not have to pay all these extra taxes because of the moving."

SO YOU SEE, THIS ZONING ORDINANCE IS YOUR, AND YOUR KID'S BEST FRIEND.

PILLSBURY CHICKEN GUESSING CONTEST

Lucky guessers will have an opportunity to try their skill in a contest at Scottsville Flour Mills during the next five weeks.

The contest is based on the growth-rate of a number of chickens which will be on display at the dealer's store.

Tylor Robertson, dealer points out that this is purely a local contest, that someone in this area must win. "The amateur has just as much chance as the expert," he said "because even the chickens themselves don't know how fast they will grow."

The contest will run for several weeks, and the person whose guess is nearest to the actual weight of the birds at the close of the contest will be given the chickens free of charge. A 100-lb. bag of feed is being offered as second prize. Contest blanks may be obtained at the dealer's store.

Household Hints

By Elizabeth C. Campbell, Home Economist, Appalachian Electric Power Company

Old hose make excellent dusting cloths. Just cut off the feet and use the tops. They are free of lint.

When paper becomes stuck to the polished surface of a table, soften it with a little olive oil and then rub with a soft cloth. This will remove the paper without any mark.

When using peroxide to remove stain, be sure to wash thoroughly and allow to dry before ironing. Ironing while still damp may leave a rust stain.

If you are having trouble with uneven and unshapely loaves of bread, take more care when placing bread in the oven. See that the pans neither touch the sides of the oven nor touch one another.

For those who have trouble washing lacy lingerie and dainty blouses, try making a bag of any cotton mesh. The open weave of the cloth insures complete sudsing action. This is also good protection for ruffled curtains and small items like baby clothes.

To avoid keeping unsightly rags tucked away out of sight, keep a small rubber sponge in the bathroom and use it to clean the lavatory.

When sewing on materials such as silk, pin a towel over the end of the sewing machine. The material will not slip off during the sewing process.

Store your ball of string in that teapot which is not being used. Conservatively, it will catch dust. Let loose end of cord dangle from the spout.

To keep soapy shampoo water out of your eyes, rub petroleum jelly across the forehead before starting to shampoo the hair.

To dress up eggs for children, try making them in penicilins. Peel hard cooked eggs and chill. Make legs by inserting two toothpicks into large end of egg and affix feet of two halved pitted black, ripe olives. Put third pick into back, slantwise, to form a tripod so bird can stand. Stick fourth pick through egg to hold on flippers (two halved pitted olives). Run fifth pick through olive on the slant so that one end sticks out for a beak and spear other end into top of egg for head.

If you have no ring mold for jello salads, place a small glass filled with chopped ice on the center of a bowl. Pour your salad mixture around glass and set in refrigerator to congeal. To serve remove glass and invert bowl.

Did you know that celery leaves have three times the food value found in the stalks and you can do lots of things with pretty green celery leaves. Wash leaves, then store in refrigerator in covered dish. Here are some uses:

- 1. Sprinkle as you would chopped parsley, for a garnish.
2. Add a few leaves to mixed green salad.
3. Cook with spinach or other greens.
4. Mince, and add to soups, croquetts, salads, sandwich fillings, sauces or casserole dishes.
5. Chop, and add to boiled or steamed potatoes, carrots, onions, etc.

Ramblings

April... the very word magical and musical! It's even nice name for a girl. You don't see or hear much of the elaborate kind of April fool jokes that used to be played. Perhaps the world is losing its sense of humor... developing a less slapstick... Even Al Capp, that whimsical creator of Li'l Abner and Daisy... has observed that people are losing the ability to laugh at themselves, which is a sad observation and not in keeping with the spirit of April, when everything is new and young in nature. To me it has always seemed like the beginning of the year. After all, the calendar is only a sheet of paper. Your own year can start whenever you want it to. For some it starts with the school year in September, or on their birthday, but I prefer it to start when the sap rises in the trees and the gray tight buds begin to show their colors. Color bursts out everywhere and the clouds race across the sky.

Every now and then some man comes out publicly and hollers loudly at the gross negligence of wives who put away shirts with out buttons and socks with holes. One man has suggested that all such horrifying articles should be dumped in a heap on the living room floor. It is something to ponder and something for the statisticians to work on as to the comparative number of wives who err in this fashion and the husbands who drop whatever they may be wearing at the time they either go to bed, get up, or decide to change their clothes and leave said garment on the floor exactly as it dropped off their frames. We have been advised to leave all such

by Norma Todd-Davis

VIOLET AND PANSY

"Violet is for faithfulness which in me shall abide; Hoping, likewise, that from your heart

You will not let it slide."

So sings Shakespeare, the greatest of all poets. Wordsworth has given us assurance that "Long as there's a sun that sets, Primroses will have their glory; Long as there are violets, They will have a place in story".

In the festival of the Teralia, celebrated by the Romans in honor of their dead, violets were strewn as offerings. Walter Scott gives us his authority in favor of our beloved flower: The violet, in her greenwood bower Where birchen boughs with hazels mingle; May boast itself the fairest flower

In glen or copse or forest dingle.

The pansy, still more than the violet, is the favorite of poets. It bears a great variety of pretty names such as Heart's ease, Lady's Delight, Butterfly Violet, etc. but none prettier than the french Pensee (a thought) from which the English pansy is derived.

Everybody recollects Ophelia's touching speech—"There's Rosemary, that's for remembrance; Pray you love, remember; and there's Pansies, that's for thought."

Spencer speaks of the "pretty pansies" and Milton of the "pansy, streaked with jet."

The nuptial couch of Eden was formed of "pansies and violets and asphodel and hyacinths, earth's freshest, softest lap."

THE LAUREL

The fabled origin of the laurel is this. Daphne, daughter of the river, Peneus, offended by the persecutions of Apollo, implored succor of the gods, who changed her into a laurel tree. Apollo crowned his head with the leaves and ordered that forever after the tree should be sacred to him.

It was the custom of the Romans to crown their victorious generals with laurel leaves. Laurel was worn by the sacred priestesses of Delphi.

From the customs which prevailed in some places of crowning the young doctors in physics with laurel berry (bacca lauri) the students were called bacca laureate, or bachelors.

The Poet's crown was always formed of laurel.

Mrs. Smith Named Garden Club Delegate

The Fluvanna Garden Club held its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon, March 20, at the home of Mrs. F. A. Crockett in Fork Union with Mrs. J. H. Yeatman as co-hostess.

Mrs. William J. Smith, Jr. President, was selected as delegate to the state meeting to be held May 13, 14, and 15 at The Chamberlain Hotel, Old Point Comfort, Virginia, with Mrs. H. M. Bransford, State Chairman of Junior Garden Club of Piedmont District as alternate.

The club voted to place a bench with a bronze plaque, carrying the inscription previously accepted, in the triangle at Dixie instead of the mill stone that had been suggested.

Schedules for the flower show, "Flowers on Parade" which will be held on April 9, were distributed.

Mrs. Philip Stoneman, of the Goochland Garden Club gave a most interesting and informative talk on "Wild Flowers". She exhibited many pressed specimens of her own during the talk.

The refreshments were delicious and decorations in which the shamrocks and stars were featured lent a most delightful touch of "The Irish" to the occasion.

Labor Day is the only national holiday recognized by Congressional action.

In Memoriam
In memory of our Dear Brother Alfred G. Winks. Died one year ago April the 1st, 1951.
Sister and Brother
One year has passed since that sad day
When one we loved was called away.
God took him home—it was His will,
Within our hearts he liveth still.
