Ruritan Club Plans Comedy Un April 4

The Fluvanna Ruritan Club will sponsor a comedy hit, featuring 'The Big Baby Revue" in the Fluvanna County High School auditorium on Friday evening, April 4 at 8 p.m. The cast will be made up of members of the Fluvanna Ruritan Club. Members will play the role of leading theatrical stars, in addition to the famous characters in the leading comic strips. The proceeds realized from the show will be used to defray expenses of the varied activities of the club. The club has been instrumental in the organizing of Boy Scout Troops in the outlying districts of the county and is at present supporting the dental clinic that is serving the elemenary schools of the county.

The Ruritans urge that all nembers of the community help o support these projects.

At a meeting of the Fluvanna Ruritans at the High School Monday night, a motion was passed to send representatives from the club and the county board of supervisors to discuss with the highway commissioners in Richmond various improvements along State Highway 15. The object of this is to assist the Fluvanna Memorial Association in establishing the memorial highway in honor of World War veterans. This monument to the county's soldiers has already been dedicated, with Governor Battle present, at the Dixie State

It was rather a cloudy day and cold, but views of the mountains were plenty clear, and individual trees stand about like sentries here and there. This time of year is a good one in which to see the contour of the land and hills; you can look deep into the woods and follow streams that are hidden when all the foilage comes out. Up in the mountains there were sides of rock covered with ice and icicles. We even broke a huge icicle off of a rock by the side of the road in one place and had a mighty cold mouthful. Big Piney was full of water and beautifully clear, with a lovely green tinge. And cold! Down off the mountains the streams looked muddy and nurky. There didn't seem to be nary birds about, and buds on he trees higher up showed no signs of swelling. But the deep green of the hemlocks the lighter green of the white pines the different shades of the barks on the other woodland trees, the red of the plowed earth and the oranges and yellows of sedge brush gave is plenty of color.

ing was being done in many places, some of it with tractors, but most with teams. We saw several tobacco plant beds in the process of preparation. Some farmers were shucking corn, others liming pastures and harrowing and discing. Everywhere there was lumbering going on, and in many spots there were signs of cleaning up land. Through one pasture we could see where small trees and brush had been pulled up from the stream bank and piled ready for burning. This sort of operation always distresses us. Everything we have ever read advises that stream banks should either be fenced against cattle, or brush should be left to hold the banks. And wherever we have seen stream banks cleaned, then eventually you have the bank caving in, the stream filling with sand, overflowing, the bed of the stream turned and the cutting up of the field. This kind of operation too emoves all bird and wildlife cover

THREE JOBS

The dollar which you decide to deposit in a Savings Account at this institution really does three jobs. It helps to curb inflation, because the dollar saved is a dollar not carelessly spent . . . and careless and unnecessary spending is what raises prices and increases inflation. The dollar saved helps to provide loannable, funds, on which we pay you interest and which in turn we lend to others to create production, Also, every dollar you save helps to build up a back log of purchasing power for you. This purchasing power will be available later on and will undoubtly give you lasting satisfaction. The dollar saved helps you acquire that sense of security which may mean the difference between confidence and happiness and worry and anxiety. We suggest that if your dollars are to do these three jobs that you spend only that which is necessary and save as much as possible. Open an account with our Savings Department today.

Grass Is Gold

Several years back leaders of rural areas in Virginia were convinced that bringing in new industries and businesses was about the only way of making a community thrive. However, today there is a movement that can just as easily boost the income and prosperity in rural sections as new industrial plants. That is: the pasture improvement program.

Based on practical experience and scientific knowledge, the pasture improvement program opens a new field of venture to those farmers who have toiled long and hard and made little profit on cropland. For indeed, "Grass Is Gold."

The pasture improvement program is a proved method of the farmer improving his land, increasing his profits and eliminating a great deal of risk involved in other agricultural pro-

It is with pride that we notice more and more green fields in this area. The pasture improvement program seems to be meeting with much success here. It presents a great and inviting Democrat party is clearly one of challenge to all farmers.

Flower Lore

By Norma Todd-Davis

The Periwinkle is the emblem of friendship, Thetis, the mother of Achillies, is represented by the ancients as "a female of dark complexion, with dishevelled hair about her shoulders, and upon her head a coronet of perwinkle."

This pretty flower has not been forgotten by the poets. Wordsworth thus alludes to it: "Through | Heathen mythology states that primrose tufts in that sweet bower, The Perwinkle trailes its wreaths her blood flowed upon the flower And 'tis my faith that every flower Enjoys the air it breaths."

Chaucer, who seems to have oved all flowers, speaks of the 'Fresh periwinkle rich of hue" The Periwinkle

A maiden wandering through a glade

of gleaming sun and waving

Saw, o'er a little grassy steep A lowly periwinkle creep.

Why on the earth thus prostrate

Thou of the blue and beaming eye? Come, round this dewey primrose twine.

"Fair girl," the lowly flower replied.

'The Rose must seek a gayer bride;

The only destiny I crave I find upon this nameless grave.

Each day, a pale young being kneels

Beside this lonely mound and feels, When gazing in my heavenward

Her own heart lifted to the sky

'Tis happiness enough for me To sooth her silent misery And lift her erring soul to Heaven Where crime, repented, is forgiven."

Never, within the memory of termined. living man, has there been such the United States as exists today.

The Democrat party is well torn other and is principally concerned asunder. There President Truman s in the saddle and will not disthe power, through the millions of job-holders dependent on him, to greatly influence determination of who will get the nomination should he decide he has had enough.

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is a candidate for the Democrat nomination for president. His only difference with President Truman is that he says his administration would be more honest Otherwise he, like Truman, would push the program of the Fabian Socialists and international boon-

Senator Russell of Georgia is also a candidate for the Democrat nomination and is favored by the Southern Democrats. He is much more conservative but he could not be expected to get the Democrat nomination.

Exactly the same situation exists within the Republican party. Though there are many names in the running it is now clear that two are at this time important.

And here is a sharp separation Here there is also sharp distinction between the right and left.

Personally General Eisenhower is an unknown quantity on internal problems. But in the international picture he clearly favors international boondogling. He clearly stands behind the proposal of taking the earnings of our people for the benefit of the people of other lands; of reducing the living standard of our people in order to raise the living standard of oth-'If you would give the leafy er peoples higher than is warranted bowers a Queen, from all their by the volume of work they per-

This sharply defined contest within the Republican party as between right and left is brought into the Republican party of Virginia. Here there is a difficult situation. Many factors are involved.

Good growing conditions are important. Vigrous plants are not as susceptible to disease as weak plants. Destruction of old diseased plant refuse in and around the garden, and proper fertilization and culture, will help provide good growing conditions.

Follow a carefully planned rotation so plants of the same family will not be grown in the same part of the garden in succeeding years. Many plant diseases attack all members of the same family.

Buy good seed and disease-free plants from a reliable dealer. Western-grown bean seed is usually free of bacterial blight and anthracnose, while home-grown seed

Club Holds Food Sale The Point-of-Fork 4-H Club

under the leadership of Miss Alice Ankers had a food sale at T. J. Proffitt's store on Saturday March 8, 1952. We made cookies, candies, cake, and popcorn and also breads to sell and made $8.14.

The Fleming girls covered a wagon wheel with white and green paper and put a 4-H flag on top of it. All the girls brought exhibits to show the projects we had taken in the past year.

Four of the girls gave a skit which were: Paula Goss, Beatrice Johnson, Ann Johnson and Peggy Fleming who was absent to Katherine Ringwood took her place. The name of the skit was Gypsies.

We also sung songs for a penny and got around twentythree (23). We sang "This Old Man", "My Hat" and many other foolish songs. Then we sang some The Gleam."

Then we closed up shop.

What soup then? One time make it a savory blend of canned soups. Nancy Holmes of the Best Foods consumer kitchens suggests cream of tomato with navy bean, seasoned with onion and celery. Another day, a steaming oyster stew. And here's one of Nancy's own recipes and a perfect Saturday night special. Serve it with salt sticks or French bread and salad. Top it off with cherry pie for a scrumptious

Saturday Supper Soup

2 carrots, sliced
2 stalks celery,
chopped
2 bouillon cubes
2 teaspoons salt
1/16 teaspoon
curry powder
2 tablespoons flour
4 cup water
2 or 3 frankfurters, cocked 1½ cups dried lentils ½ cup chopped onion

onion
½ green pepper,
chopped
¼ cup vitaminized
margarine
2 quarts water
1 bay leaf
2 sprigs parsley
3 celery tops

Soak lentils overnight or at least 5 hours in enough water to cover. Drain. In a kettle saute onion and green pepper in margarine 5 minutes. Add water, lentils, carrots, celery, bouillon cubes and salt. Tie bay leaf, parsley and celery tops in a cheesecloth bag and drop into kettle. Simmer gently 1½ to 2 hours or until lentils are soft.
