Crowd Of Over 600 Sees May Day At Scottsville High

A crowd of more than 600 parents and friends stood around the ropes in the field across from Scottsville High School last Friday afternoon to witness the celebration of May Day for the first time in 28 years.

Scottsville school children, from the first grade on up to the senior class, gave a finished performance of dancing in the colorful costumes of many of the United Nations. Each grade, coached by their teachers, and costumed by parents, or with the help of Mrs. Ashby Mayo, presented a dance symbolic of the country it represented.

Starting with the procession of the May Court, which was highlighted by the entrance of Mrs. Queen Boyce Heath, escorted by Sidney Morris, the event was one of perfect timing, and a flawless production. Fairies and elves from the first grade represented the land of dreams, and from then on, each nation was beautifully portrayed. Dancing was done to well chosen music, and a running comment was made by Bobby Spencer, master of ceremonies.

Particularly impressive were the Maypole Dance, the Dutch Windmill dance, the French Hoop dance, and the finale, when members of the senior class entered carrying flags of the United Nations and ended the dance by surrounding the other dancers around the field.

At the opening of the program, Barney Philpot, P.T.A. president, crowned the Queen with a crown of flowers. Preceding Miss Heath in the procession were Miss Margaret Stargel, crown bearer. Flower girls were Diane Steger, Carroll Randolph, Claire Dorrier and Linda Christenson. Train bearers were Mike Eyre and Billy Dawson.

Other members of the May Court were Barbara Simmons, maid of honor, escorted by Pete Purvis; Senior representatives Christine Catlett, escorted by Wilson Harrison and Janice Adcock, escorted by Jimmy Haley; Junior representatives Phyllis Morris escorted by Billy Moon and Barbara Hamner escorted by Franklin Ferneyhough; Sophomore representatives June Mayo, escorted by Kenneth Hughes and Virginia Lee Londeree, escorted by Luther Maupin; Freshman representatives Shirley Golladay, escorted by C. B. Johnson and Shirby Jean Johnson escorted by Robert Bell. The girls wore pastel colored organdy dresses made by themselves in the same style, and their escorts wore tuxedos with white coats.

The general opinion of the audience was that it was the best May Day that has been in these parts in many years. The fact that it had been postponed from May Day until May 2 because of previous rainy weather did not dampen the spontaneous spirit of all those responsible for the event.

Europe is the second smallest continent in the world.

Scottsville High Edges Fluvanna Nine, 2 To 1

Scottsville High School came from behind to score a 2-1 victory over Fluvanna High School here Tuesday afternoon in a thrilling pitcher's duel.

Billy Moon went the entire route for the winners, giving up but four hits and striking out eight in winning his fourth game of the season. Flanagan was almost as effective for Fluvanna, giving up but five hits, two of them to Wallace Ferneyhough, and striking out four.

Fluvanna went ahead when they scored their lone run in the top of the fourth inning when R. Baber's wild throw allowed W. Pace to score from 3rd base, but Scottsville bounced back with 2 runs in their half of the frame. Charles Hamner opened the inning with a long fly to right field. Billy Moon then reached first on an error, but was forced at second by Frank Ferneyhough's grounder. R. Bell then worked Flanagan for a walk to set the stage for W. Ferneyhough's game winning triple to deep left field. R. Baber then grounded out to end all scoring for the day.

Prizes For 100 Bushel Corn Club Guaranteed

The directors of the Albemarle Farm Bureau Thursday night guaranteed prizes for the winners in the 100 Bushel Corn Club competition.

The bureau voted to sponsor the club at its last quarterly meeting. Prizes will include a half ton of fertilizer for the top three yields, with the big winner getting a silver pitcher. The fourth placer will be awarded a bushel of hybrid seed corn. An entrance fee for contestants was agreed upon Thursday night.

The directors also discussed means of quickening truck loading at the State lime grinding plant at Staunton.

Fluvanna Supervisors Asked To Appropriate Fire Equipment Funds

At a regular meeting of the Fluvanna County Board of Supervisors last Monday Luther Pitts Duncan appeared to ask that Fluvanna County appropriate funds for fire-fighting equipment. This would consist of a heavy truck, hose, ladders, a water tank and other pieces. Including shelter for the truck, the cost was estimated at nearly $10,000. The supervisors decided to appoint a committee of investigation and postpone action until another meeting.

After a talk by Mrs. Christine Coffey, assistant state librarian from Richmond, the supervisors agreed to let the Bookmobile, a mobile regional library, circulate in Fluvanna county for one year on a trial basis. There will be no charge for this, and decision to keep the Bookmobile for the use of Fluvanna citizens, at county expense, will not have to be made until June, 1953.

Forest Warden Thanks County Fire Fighters

Walter Duncan, Forest Fire Warden of the Virginia Forest Service wishes to thank the Fluvanna people for cooperating and helping to fight the fires of Fluvanna in the past months.

Mr. Duncan especially wishes to thank the K.V.G. (Keep Virginia Green) boys of the Fluvanna County High School, who did a splendid job with the forest fire which occurred on April 22. This was the Wilmington and Shilo fire. The Wilmington fire burned over 800 acres and the Shilo fire burned around 180 acres.

Mr. Duncan also wishes to thank the Abrams boys of the colored school for their fine job in this tremendous fire. Without the help of the K.V.G. boys and the Abram boys it would be hard to say what the damage may have totaled, he stated today.

Club Meeting

Mrs. Harry F. Smith of Albemarle entertained the members of the Melvale Home Demonstration Club of Schuyler at her newly-re-modeled home on Tuesday, for the club's observation of National Home Demonstration Club week.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith have recently redone their home, with emphasis on convenience and beauty. The members observed the way in which the chestnut paneled walls pointed up the antiques among the furnishings.

They also observed the unusual effects produced by Mr. and Mrs. Smith with unlikely materials, such as curtain rods made from pump pipes, which were cleaned, stained, and finished at the ends with knobs made from cedar posts from the old porch.

Mrs. Martin Kidd, club president, made the arrangements for the visit.

Garden Tour, Tea Set For Friday Afternoon

A garden tour and silver tea will be held at "Oakland Farms," the home of Mrs. George Tower, between 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Tea will be served by the Women of Trinity Episcopal Church for the benefit of a new driveway at the rectory.

Scottsville Man Found Guilty Of Drunk Driving

Leroy Cunningham, of Scottsville, was convicted of drunken driving in Trial Justice Court in Charlottesville Friday.

The conviction resulted in the revocation of the suspension of a six-month jail term given him in Scottsville Court. On the tipsy driving charge, Cunningham got a 90-day suspended sentence, $100 fine and 12-month permit suspension.

He was picked up on Monticello Mountain in Charlottesville by University Policeman E. W. Lang, who said he was following a school bus and driving all over the road. A blood test was submitted as evidence and an appeal was noted.

Birth Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Melton, of Palmyra, are the parents of a daughter born April 30 at the Martha Jefferson Hospital.

Flower Show Set For Next Wednesday

It will be "Blossom Time in Scottsville" on Wednesday, May 21, when the Fair Haven Garden Club will present a Flower Show in the Firemen's Building.

Mrs. C. W. Nees, president of the club, has announced the following chairmen: Horticulture Section, which includes varieties of roses and specimen perennials and biennials—Mrs. J. E. Hamner and Mrs. Jack Castiel; Arrangements, including one for men only, in charge of Mrs. W. T. Miller—Mrs. R. V. Krouse, Mrs. Guy Moon, Mrs. John Hamner, Mrs. Lawrence Proffitt and Mrs. W. A. McDearmon; Juniors, Mrs. Charles Stone. The latter section is classified for arrangements in a goblet, a small basket, for a sickroom and miniatures, and has a horticulture section for rose, iris, flowering shrub, peony, lily, rose collection and collection of annuals.

Ceremony Honors Revolutionary Soldier

A ceremony marking the grave of a Revolutionary soldier was held, under the auspices of the Point-of-Fork chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, in Fork Union on Sunday afternoon, May 4.

Makers were placed on the site of the graves of Austin Seay and his wife who were buried in an old family burying ground on what is now the Fork Union Military Academy property. All of the land on which the Academy was built was originally owned by Austin Seay.

Many descendants were present including Mrs. Eunice Mann, of Baltimore, Maryland, who supervised the program. Mrs. George E. Wimmer, president of the Maryland State Society of D.A.R., was also present.

The Rev. George DeWitte Zachary, of Columbia, gave the invocation and also a brief summary of the Seay family of Virginia.

The D.A.R. ritual was read by Mrs. Henry Martin Sneed, regent of the the Point-of-Fork chapter, with responses by the members.

William Howard Mann gave the soldiers Service Record and George Wade White gave the widows Marriage and Pension Record. The makers were unveiled by Charles Edgar Mann, IV and Dorothy Eggleston Mann. Wreaths of flowers were placed by Bette Sue Tomlinson and Kay Ranson White.

The Fork Union Military Academy band played the National Anthem and sounded taps.

The Marshalls included Mrs. Asa Brown, Harry Hartwell White, Philip B. Seay, Leroy Eugene White and Austin C. Seay White. Following the ceremony a reception for the descendants and friends was given by the Point-of-Fork chapter in the Arcade of the Fork Union Baptist Church.

Library Facilities Are Made Available To Fluvanna Residents

The board of trustees of the Charlottesville and Albemarle Public Library has announced that all facilities of the Charlottesville library are now open to Fluvanna residents on a cost-free basis.

The arrangement was made in connection with a public library demonstration project sponsored by the Virginia State Library Board—one of two undertaken by the State board under liberalized State aid to public libraries provided by the General Assembly.

The expense of providing the extension of services will be borne by the State Library Board. Provision has been made for the expenditure of approximately $7,000. At the end of the demonstration period a Library Advisory Board to be established in Fluvanna County will become an evaluation committee. At that time its duty will be to recommend to the Board of Supervisors of Fluvanna County whether or not the county should join the Charlottesville-Albemarle Public Library system on a paying basis.

Fluvanna County was chosen as one of the demonstration areas because its population is considered too small to support its own library system according to standards established by the State Library Board and because it can be served advantageously by the Charlottesville Library.

Fluvanna residents will be invited to register and to withdraw books, periodicals and phonograph records at the Charlottesville library on the same basis as Charlottesville residents.

In addition the Charlottesville library's bookmobile will make weekly trips into Fluvanna County, starting about June 1. Bookmobile routes and stops will be determined jointly by officials of the Charlottesville library the State Board, and the Library Advisory Board to be appointed in Fluvanna County. The demonstration period is planned to extend until June 30, 1953.

Mrs. Parr Is Hostess For U.D.C. Meeting

The regular quarterly meeting of the U.D.C. was held in the home of Mrs. H. H. Parr, Thursday, May 1, at 3:30 o'clock.

The program was "Lee Surrendered Appomattox". Interesting talks were made by Mrs. F. E. Paulett, President, and Mrs. A. W. Mayo.

At the closing of the meeting delicious refreshments were served.

Two Convicts Escape

Two escapees from the State prison farm at Greenfield, Nelson County, were reported to be in the North Garden section of Albemarle County Friday morning.

Ramblings

Everyone's fears were unfounded as the week-end for May Day rolled around again with the sun and the breeze cooperating beautifully to make the past eventful days at public schools and Sweet Briar College memorable ones. The lovely May weather made the costumes seem brighter and prettier than ever, and with song and music in the air it was hard to get back to the work-a-day world of worry about taxes, war, and who is going to be the next president. We should be grateful that our youth can so joyously and freely celebrate in song and dance the coming of spring and the fresh young beauty of the May Queens and their attendants.
This is 'Be kind to Animals' week. Beside giving your pets food and water, a loving word or pat does wonders, and it is one of the most worthy weeks we know of. Surely someone should bring it to the attention of those who seem to enjoy trapping in another season, so that they can make plans to do it the most merciful way possible, if they must trap, and to ask themselves again just why they enjoy catching and killing harmless creatures that live in the woods and don't bother anybody.

Sunday is Mother's Day, and because mothers seldom forget those they love, it is up to all of us to remember the one who has known us and loved us the longest. It is also a time for mothers to think of themselves as mothers, and not as women in so many other roles that women play nowadays. There are grandmothers in poodle hair-cuts, mothers who hold political office, and movie queens who raise a good-size family. But in the eyes of their children, they are "Mother," not Miss or Mrs. so-and-so. They are the guardians of the world's future, they nurture their children, both physically, spiritually and mentally, and what a man turns out to be most often goes back to how he was started out. One day to remember mother and give her a kind word, either written or spoken, is not enough—it should be done as often as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Snead spent the week-end in Richmond, attending the May Day exercises of Westhampton College.

Mrs. Raymond Snead spent the week-end in Richmond, visiting Mrs. D. N. Sledd.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Norvelle this week-end were Mrs. Dick Purcell, and son Dickie, of Louisa, and Rev. Carlton of Charlottesville who led in the worship services of the Presbyterian Church Sunday.

Mrs. P. J. Winn, of West Virginia spent the past week at her home in Fork Union. During her stay here, she was visited by her daughter, Mrs. Ben McCutchen of Richmond and Mrs. Robert Gooch, and children of Baltimore.

Andrew Seay was visited by his sister, Mrs. Whitehurst of Washington this week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Snead and family, visited Mrs. Snead's mother, Mrs. S. F. Winstead in Haynesville this week-end.

Col. and Mrs. N. J. Perkins, of Carysbrook spent the past week-end in Roanoke, visiting Mrs. Perkins' sister, Mrs. C. R. Hughes. Mrs. Perkins recently attended the 61st Continental Congress, of the D.A.R., in Washington. She was delegate of the Point of Fork Chapter.

New Job-New Tools

A Job Well Done

The May Day Program presented last Friday at Scottsville High School was well received. And justly so. The presentation was comparable with those of larger high schools and even those of smaller colleges.

The program which went as smooth as clockwork was the result of much careful planning and practice. Members of the faculty who helped get up the program as well as the participants are to be commended for their excellent work.

The faculty-student cooperation, the pride of the students in their performance and the loyalty of local residents are keenly envied on such occasions by those who live in communities where those qualities are lacking in the public school system.

Scottsville High School and the patrons of the school should be proud of their May Day presentation.

Country Lawyer

By Walter Johnson

Last week there was discussion in this column of effort by Richmond bureaucracy to take control of elective county officers away from the people of the counties. Though the battle continues to rage nothing decisive has happened up to this writing.

Many years ago the people permitted the state to take over payment of part of the salaries of county officers. On the surface this seemed to lessen the burden of the people of the counties although in fact the state money is taxed out of the people just as much as is the county money. No saving was effectuated. It merely meant that county officers were paid by the people in part through state taxation and in part through county taxation. The burden remained upon the people just the same.

At the time this system was initiated there was some fear that the state would attach strings to payment of these salaries and in that way take over control of the counties through control over the salaries for county officers. As a measure of protection against such acts the people, speaking through the General Assembly, provided by statute that salaries "shall be in monthly installments".

By using the word "shall" it was plainly intended to require the state to pay these salaries wholly without any discretion and without any power to impose any conditions or restrictions of any kind. Usually it is recognized that he who controls the purse directs the wagon and it was for that reason the General Assembly provided by law that the Board "shall" pay these salaries.

The Board flew in the face of this law. It decided that it would disregard the mandatory provision of the law and invoke a condition under which it would pay the state portion of salaries of county officers. It required that as a precedent to being paid that the county officers would have to fill out two forms in quadruplicate and file these under oath.

The Board tries to justify this requirement by saying these forms are necessary to it because of initiation of social security as among some county officers. This may be convenient to the Board because in that way a part of the record-keeping function of the Board is passed on to the county officers. But there is a great difference between what is merely convenient and what is in fact necessary.

No other employer known to this writer considers it necessary for employees to fill out a lot of forms to help the employer keep records. There is no more reason why this State Board should do so.

Some people are of the opinion that a burden of two or three hours to a half day a month is not too much to impose upon county officers. Whether it is or is not too much of a burden is beside the point. The real question is one of control versus independence.

The essence of our system is that county officers shall be responsive to the will of the people.

Far too many county officers are now beyond control of the people through serving under appointments; through being selected for instead of by the people.

Now only five county officers are selected by the people apart from the Board of Supervisors. These are the Clerk, Treasurer, Commissioner of Revenue, Sheriff and Commonweal's Attorney. It is highly important that these officers be kept independent of state control and responsive to the people. For that reason it is highly important that these officers retain their freedom of the state. Their responsibility to the people requires that they refuse to accept any direction out of Richmond Bureaucracy because otherwise they cede control to Richmond.

Certainly if the Richmond Board can force county officers to fill out forms of its convenience at least a part of the control of that office is being transferred to Richmond. We all know that wherever bureaucracy gets a little control it always follows through to get full control. To avoid control by bureaucracy one must stamp vigorously on bureaucratic fingers reaching for the first bite.

For that reason, as Commonwealth's Attorney of Northumberland County, I have refused to comply. I did not assume that office to yield any part of it to control bureaucracy. I prefer to keep it free of control out of Richmond and completely subject to control by the people of the County.

On the other hand the Board says, in effect, that if I do not yield to its control I cannot get my salary, and of course, I cannot serve too long without pay. That is where the situation now stands.

Palmyra News

By Mrs. C. C. Conrad, Sr.

Dr. Sparks Melton of Norfolk was in town Monday greeting friends. Dr. Melton is a distinguished Baptist Minister and a native Fluvannian. We are always happy to have him visit us.

Kenneth Webb has been on the sick list for the past week. X-rays are being made at the University Hospital. Kenneth is a popular student at Fluvanna County High School and his many friends are hoping he will soon feel "as good as new".

M. G. Conrad and Sheriff Bob Hughes were in Green County Thursday trout fishing.

Many of the Fluvanna Home Demonstration members were in Louisa Tuesday attending the Home Demonstration Club District 10. Mrs. P. H. France, President of the Palmyra Club, presided over the afternoon session.

Mrs. Clyde Hasher spent several days this week with her mother, Mrs. Belle Hefner.

The old H. S. Building which has stood next door to the Methodist Church for the past 45 years and which has been used as an office building in more recent years, has been purchased by Claude Pettit, Jr., of Louisa and is being taken down.

Mrs. Georgie Taylor and her sister Mrs. Elise Tucker are spending some time at Mrs. Taylor's home in Palmyra.

Mrs. Clyde Mannis and two children, Tony and Margaret, of Bristol, are spending two weeks with her parents Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Harland.

Mrs. Clare Strathey and Mrs. Douglas Hughes of Richmond spent Thursday in the S. P. Harland home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Duncan and Judy, of Richmond spent the week-end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown Hunter are spending some time with her sister Mrs. Weldon Haden and here family.

Fluvanna County High School and Orange High School met on the Fluvanna Diamond Friday, May 2 and had a good baseball game. The score at the end of the game was: Fluvanna 6 and Orange 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Farrar, Jr. and baby, of Herndon spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Farrar.

Mrs. Gilbert Cosner who has been with her husband in Puerto Rico for the past year, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Guy H. Wright, Jr. and little son spent the week-end in Yorktown with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Haden.

Billy Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Richardson and the children of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Wills are out after having the measles.

"Butch" Morris son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Morris is in this week with the measles.

A wedding of interest took place at Colonial Beach, Wednesday, April 30 at 6 p.m. when Miss Elva Cordelia Tate, of King George County daughter of Mrs. George Dewey Tate and the late George Dewey Tate, became the bride of Floyd Conway Hasher, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hasher, of Palmyra.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John A. Morgan, Sr. pastor of the Baptist Church.

The bride wore an eggshell suit with navy accessories and a white orchid. Mrs. George Glasco, the matron of honor, wore a beige suit with brown accessories and an orchid.

L. M. Hasher acted as best man for his son.

A small reception was held at the home of the bride after the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Dykeman and their three children from Johnson City, N.Y. were overnight visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Madison. Burt Dykeman and George Madison saw action together during the invasion of France up to the Elbe river, and were with the recon outfit to first meet the Russian soldiers.

T. C. Lynch has been confined to his home this week on account of illness. We hope he will soon be up and out again.

The Meanderer

We waited so long for the dogwood blossoms, and now they are all gone. The last of them in our yard gave up their attachment to the trees in a most interesting way the other evening. The wind blew up quite hard as we were sitting on the porch, and the dogwood blossoms fell all around us like a snow storm. The air seemed full of them, and then formed almost a blanket on the ground.

The warblers have finally come in all their glory. We kept waiting for them, and the other morning in some big woods where we always find them, there they were. The leaves have already grown quite large, and to try and find these little birds high up in the trees is almost like trying to find a needle in a haystack. The voices were all about us, and nearly drove us crazy trying to isolate one from another. Somehow we managed to see the Black-throated Green, the Chestnut-sided, Worm-eating, Magnolia, Canada, and we thought we heard the Black-throated Blue, but did not see him. For the next few mornings they will probably be around and then will take off to more northern territory. This time of the year we would like to do nothing out spend our time out in the woods watching these little warblers, for they are only here about a week or so. Our neck will be broken before the migration is over, but that is of little moment.

The Bobolinks are going through now too. Watch for them in alfalfa fields. They can be heard as they feed on the ground, and then rise up to some perch, and then back down again. We saw both males and females the other morning—the males in their black, yellow and white coats, and the females in dull light brown. The Chat too is back, and will nest here. This is the largest of the warblers and more easily seen, for it likes bushy hillsides, and its bright yellow breast—stands out quite conspicuously. The Chat is a regular clown; he whistles, calls, boos, and has a wonderful time with all his varied notes. The White-crowned Sparrows are still here, and so are the White-throats. They will be gone by the end of the week, but until then we can enjoy their song.

The Indigo Bunting came back several days ago, and can be heard singing on and on from a wire or the top of a tree. These are the little dark shiny blue birds, with the female a brown color, but with a tinge of the blue. Pewees are calling their names in the woods, and we have seen and heard a number of Scarlet and Summer Tanagers.

Bible Comment:

Judah's Unsteady Course Indicates Lack of Morality

JUDAH became the Southern Kingdom of Israel after the division of the country into the southern and northern kingdoms by Jeroboam's successful revolt against Rehoboam, son and successor of Solomon.

The strength of David and the glory of Solomon soon waned when a people who ought to have been united with a common heritage in history and religion became strife-torn and divided. In this history there is a warning for modern nations.

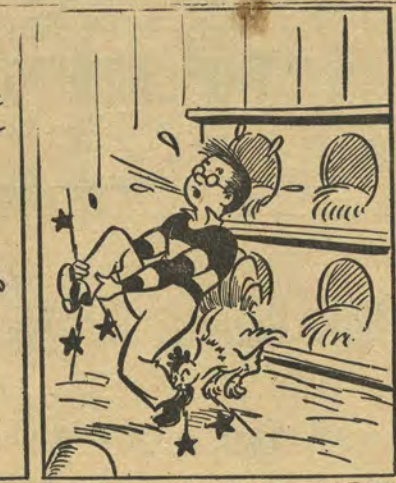

The freedom that our democratic lands accord in speech and action is being used by some to promote discord and draw lines of hate and prejudice, sometimes in the sacred name of Christ and Christianity.

Along that way so surely lies ruin that all who love God must set themselves to do everything possible to promote the national strength that can come only to a people united in justice and righteousness.

The Northern Kingdom, as we have seen, was the first to fall. It was swept away eight centuries before Christ when the armies of Assyria came down upon it. Its people became known to history as the "Lost Ten Tribes." The Southern Kingdom survived for another 136 years, but it also went down before the armies of Babylon.

There was an interlude during this 136 years when a good king, Hezekiah, and the noble prophet, Isaiah, were dominant in Judah. But at best, Judah's course was unsteady. Periods of better living, wise kingly guidance, and welfare were intermixed with periods of bad leadership and idolatry.

Hezekiah himself, though a good king, was by no means perfect. He did a foolish thing when he vainly displayed to envoys from the king of Babylon his wealth and the treasures of the palace. The prospect of loot, in ancient as in modern times, was a fruitful cause of war and invasion.

How to Wash Blankets in Your Washing Machine

Now that warmer weather has come, it is time to put heavy blankets away. There is nothing moths like better than mulching on soiled wool; so get your blankets clean before it is too late. But check first — Does the label say "dry clean only"? If so, follow that good advice. Most wool blankets can go right into your washer if a few simple directions are followed. This "soak" method will work in any type automatic washing machine if it has a dial which can be turned from one position to another and if it can be opened after it fills with water. Also keep in mind your manufacturer's directions.

Wash one blanket at a time and follow these directions. Take measurements of blanket in both length and width. You'll need them later for blocking the blanket back to the proper size and shape. Maybe you had better write these measurements down — you may forget.

Look the blanket over carefully, especially the binding. If you find any soiled spots or streaks pre-treat with your favorite detergent mixed with warm water to form a paste. Rub the paste into soiled spots using a soft hand brush or terry cloth. Brush the blanket in just one direction.

Fill your washer with warm water. If you are using the automatic type use the warm setting on your dial.

Add a synthetic detergent using the amount recommended by the manufacturer. The blanket seems to get wet faster when using a detergent than when using soap and you also get rid of the hard water problems — softening the water and rinsing out the curd that soaps forms in hard water.

Run your washer just long enough to dissolve the detergent. Let blanket soak in the washer for 15 to 20 minutes. Turn blanket over once by hand.

Blankets that are part cotton and-or rayon and wool may need a longer soaking to get them clean. Or you may need to start the washer, but avoid running it more than a minute.

Spin blanket or run it through the wringer to remove water. Rinse twice using water of the same temperature and allowing it to soak 4 or 5 minutes each time. Don't forget to turn the blanket during the rinsing "soaks" also.

Caution — If you are washing an electric blanket, manufacturers usually say that you should not put it through a wringer.

Now stretch your blanket across a line and pull evenly at the hems, starting at one side and working across to the other. Brush with a stiff brush to raise the nap. Turn the blanket before it has completely dried.

Or put blankets in your automatic clothes dryer — put several dry turkish towels in the dryer and turn it on. When towels are hot put a blanket making sure the towels are mixed in and around the folds of the wet blanket. This keeps the folds from rubbing together and felting.

Plane Crash Report

A report of a possible plane crash in Fluvanna County sent two State police men out on a search Wednesday morning but the effort was called off about 10:30 a.m. pending action by Langley Air Force Base authorities.

Sergeant M. F. Ritter and a probationary trooper toured the Fluvanna area between Rute 53 and Route 6, west of Dixie, but discovered nothing to substantiate the report.

A resident of the Dixie neighborhood, after hearing Tuesday that an F-84 had been missing since Monday night, reported he heard what might have been a plane crash between 8 and 9 p.m. Monday.

The jet was enroute from Cocoa, Fla., to Langley Air Force Base. It was last heard from about 8:10 p.m. Monday, and was thought at that time to have been in the vicinity of Langley.

Roy Price, of near Dixie, told a neighbor Tuesday night about hearing a plane, then a loud noise, Monday night. The neighbor, Charles Alexander, phoned the information to a Richmond radio station that had been carry reports of the missing plane.

Langley Air Force Base authorities contacted Fluvanna Sheriff James R. Hughes for confirmation of the report and Hughes asked State Police Sergeant Ritter to investigate it.

Langley authorities were advised Wednesday morning that an
