Scottsville Mayor-Elect Bruce Presented U. S. Flag By Local V.F.W. Members

Members of the Eighth District, Roseland, department chief of Veterans of Foreign Wars, met at staff; T. F. Bochmann, Occuquan, the Scottsville Post 8169 Home on Sunday, July 19. They were called to order by Post Commander E. B. Mayfield, who welcomed the group, and after prayer by the Chaplain, turned the meeting over to District Commander Dr. W. E. Moody, who presided. After expressing his appreciation in being elected Eighth District commander, Dr. Moody outlined his duties. He then presented Department Adjutant - Quartermaster W. I. Woodell for the introduction of department officers which included: Walter J. McGuire of Lorton, past eighth district commander; Harry Kessler of Norfolk, referred to as "Mr. Department President"; Howard T. Newland of Falls Church, tenth district adjutant; Lloyd Sparks, Falls Church, tenth district commander; Lewis Gantt,

Bureau Leaders Oppose Principle Of Price Supports

The principle of support prices on agricultural products was soundly denounced by the majority of farmers in attendance at a recent special meeting of Fluvanna Farm Bureau leaders. However, this group felt that in view of the present dependence of many farmers on price supports for their products, it would be advisable to do away with governmental supports on a gradual basis.

More than 40 Fluvanna Farm Bureau leaders attended this meeting which was called by the organization's Board of Directors to find out what the local farmer thinks of the current farm program. The meeting was hailed by Maury Hubbard, executive secretary of the Virginia Farm Bureau Federation, as one of the first of its kind to be called by local initiative to help answer Secretary Benson's plea of "What do farmers want in '54?"

The group severely criticized the present agricultural program of rigid price supports on basic commodities at 90 percent of parity. It was pointed out by the farmers present that such a program is only a short-sighted venture which would inevitably put the farmer in a straitjacket of governmental regimentation; fosters and promotes inefficiency in farming, and encourages farmers to produce items which are already in surplus supply.

As a start toward a gradual reduction of price supports, the group called upon immediate return to the Agricultural Act of 1949 which calls for flexible price supports at 75 percent to 90 percent of parity. However, these farmers felt that inequitable treatment was given to so-called "basic commodities" in relation to all other commodities. Either there should be no basic commodities or other important products as beef

Local Boy Scouts Find Snake Egg Study Non-Profitable, Non-Poisonous Business

By Bob Spencer

Eggs have been cheap in Scottsville for the past few weeks. In fact you couldn't give them away. This sounds funny, of course, but you see, they are snake eggs and Scottsville folks just won't have them.

This whole "snake eggs business" started just about three weeks ago, when Assistant Scoutmaster, Haden Anderson, brought about 15 of these eggs to a meeting of the local Boy Scouts. Much interest was aroused and the scouts were curious to know what kind of egg this was. During the meeting one of the eggs was opened and the boys got their answer, for from it was taken a snake which measured 10 inches long.

Robert Taylor, one of the local boy scouts, took one of the eggs home with him and put it in a glass jar. Robert says he kept close watch on the egg every day for a week. Then one afternoon when he went onto the back porch of his home to look at the egg, lo and behold, a snake had hatched from it. Little as it was, it was just as ferocious looking as a full grown one. By waving your hand in front of him you would cause him to strike the jar in a manner that would make you jump even though you knew he couldn't touch you. After some investigation it was decided that it was a milk snake, which is non-poisonous.

Assistant scoutmaster Anderson said early this week that five or six snakes have hatched from the eggs which he took home.

Centennial Services Scheduled Sunday

Centennial and Homecoming services will be held at Wesley Chapel M. E. Church in Fluvanna on Sunday, August 2. The Sunday School will present a program in the morning, beginning at 11 o'clock, after which dinner will be served on the grounds by the ladies of the church.

The afternoon service will begin at three o'clock. A history of the church will be given, and the centennial sermon will be delivered by Rev. E. W. Rawlings, a former pastor of Fluvanna Charge, now stationed at Stanley.

The new Sunday School building at Wesley, which consists of five classrooms and a furnace room, is nearing completion and is now being used. The congregation hopes to make other improvements in the near future.

The membership and the pastor have extended an invitation to friends as well as members to attend these services.

Revival services will begin at Wesley Chapel on Sunday along with the centennial celebration. They will be held each evening Monday through Friday at 8 p.m. The public is invited to attend these services.

Wesley Chapel

By Miss Frances Haislip

Many of the Wesley Chapel people attended the homecoming at Antioch Sunday and enjoyed the fine sermon, the inspiring music, the bountiful dinner and the fellowship with friends, both old and new, during the dinner hour.

Smith A. Rhodes, who is serving in the Navy and stationed at Chin-coteague, visited his aunt, Mrs. W. J. Irving, last Monday. He took his brother, Glenn Rhodes, with him to Martinsville to spend his vacation with his mother, Mrs. W. A. Rhodes.

Two Local Students At Forestry Camp

Two Scottsville High School agriculture students, Arius Dawson, Jr. and Hoyt Spradlin, Jr., are attending the Forestry Camp, being held this week at the Holiday Lake Camp, which is located on the site of the State 4-H Club Camp on the Buckingham-Appomattox State Forest in Appomattox County.

The camp is being sponsored by the Southern Pulpwood Conservation Association and is financed by several Virginia forest industries.

All classes are in charge of trained foresters from the Virginia Forest Service. Classes are being held in Tree Identification, Insects and Diseases; Area surveying; Reforestation; Game management; Fire control and other phases of forestry.

Fairhaven Garden Club Meeting Scheduled Aug. 5

The Fairhaven Garden Club will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, August 5, at 2 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Carrie Hamner with Mrs. John Hamner as co-hostess.

Speaker at the meeting will be Mrs. R. V. Krouse who will present a talk on the types and cultivation of Iris as well as conditions under which their period of bloom is longer.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Sgt. and Mrs. William Elmer Morris, of Germany, announce the birth of a son, Elmer, Jr., born June 29.

Sgt. Morris' home is in Es-mont and Mrs. Morris is the former Miss Thelma Ragland, daughter of Lindsay Ragland of Scottsville.

Capt. Edgerton Accepts Position As Band Director

It was announced this week that Capt. G. R. Edgerton, of Fork Union, has accepted the position of band director for Scottsville High School next year. He will also continue to direct the Fluvanna High School band as he has during the past five years.

Capt. Edgerton was band director at Fork Union Military Academy for 20 years and has had seven years experience in public school music, which included band and choral direction. His chief interest is, of course, music, but he also enjoys horseback riding, hunting and an occasional flight in the airplane which he owns. He and his family live on their farm near Fork Union. He says that a school band affords the students something more than the regular "three Rs" and at the same time gives them the opportunity to develop their musical talent.

The band committee, appointed by the Lions Club, which consists of T. H. Gillis, chairman, Curtis Conrad, Jr., and Tom Bruce, met with Capt. Edgerton at his home on Monday of this week. At this meeting, plans for the Scottsville High School band were discussed as well as plans for the purchase of the instruments. Capt. Edgerton and Curtis Conrad were appointed as a committee of two to purchase the basic instruments for the band. These instruments will be purchased with money appropriated by the Scottsville Lions Club. The band committee has announced that if anyone in the community has woodwind, brass, or percussion instruments which they would like to donate for use in the band, they would be greatly appreciated. It was also stated that if a person feels that he can not donate an instrument the committee will be glad to consider the purchase of the instrument at a reasonable rate.

When school opens in September, a number of music stores will have instruments on display at the school and representatives of these stores will be glad to talk with those students interested in buying an instrument. An eight-weeks Rental-Trial Plan will be in operation. In this plan, a student may use an instrument in the band for eight weeks for 10 percent of the initial cost. At the end of this period, if the student wishes to continue playing the instrument, he will be required to pay one-third down less the 10 percent which he has already paid. He may finish paying for the instrument in small monthly payments. Should the student decide not to continue playing the instrument, he may return it without further obligation.

T. H. Gillis, principal of Scottsville High School, said he feels certain that a school band here has excellent possibilities and he has announced that academic credit will be given those students enrolled in band classes. "The music program for the school will have my whole-hearted support," stated Mr. Gillis.

Mrs. Dorrier, formerly associated with the Sun, was reluctant to accept the 14 $1 gift certificates, but was assured that the publishers have no knowledge of who owns the farms which were photographed for this feature.

Thirty-five members and friends of the Baptist Training Union of Antioch Baptist Church, in Fluvanna County, enjoyed a trip to Natural Bridge, one of the Seven Natural Wonders of the World, last Wednesday.

At 8 o'clock in the morning, the group boarded a bus which took them to this natural world wonder, which annually attracts hundreds of thousands of visitors. After a picnic lunch, the group walked down to the bridge. Natural Bridge is not only a wonder in itself, but it is also a portal through which visitors enter the glen which surrounds it and is filled with other wonders of nature. Here, the group visited the Cathedral Wall, Pulpit Rock, Lace Waterfalls and the Lost River. Of special interest to some of the members of the group were the ancient Arbor Vitae trees. Another highlight of the trip was the pageant which is presented each night during the year and which features the Story of Creation.

Why FORD'S your best buy!

"WORTH MORE" IS THE ANSWER... IT COSTS SO LITTLE TO BUY... SO LITTLE TO RUN... AND HAS SUCH HIGH RESALE VALUE!

The best buy in an automobile usually means the amount of pleasure and satisfaction the owner gets from his original investment, plus low day-to-day running costs, plus the amount of value he recovers when he sells his car.

What is it that makes Ford your best buy? Is it the fine styling and craftsmanship of its Crestmark Body... or its new "ride" with curve-hugging and bump-leveling qualities never before known in low-priced cars? Or is it Ford's famous V-8 or Mileage Maker Six? Maybe it's the easy way the car handles with Fordomatic Drive, or Ford's Master-Guide power steering! Perhaps it's Ford's suspended pedals, or Center-Fill Fueling or Full-Circle Visibility!

Actually, it's not just any one or two of these fine things that make Ford your best buy. It's all of Ford's "Worth More" features combined... features which make Ford worth more when you buy it... and worth more when you sell it!

"Best buy" where you ride! Ford's foam-rubber cushioned seats, front and rear, are sofa-wide and sofa-soft. Interior fabrics, color-keyed to Ford's smart outside colors, would be a credit to any car at any price.

"Best buy" where you drive! Ford's suspended pedals operate more easily... eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes. And Ford drivers have a choice of Fordomatic Drive, Overdrive or Conventional transmission.

"Best buy" in engine power! Only Ford in its field offers you a choice of V-8 or Six. Ford has built more V-8's—over 13,000,000—than all other makers combined. And Ford's Six—the most modern in the industry—with Overdrive, won the Mobilgas Economy Run Grand Sweepstakes!

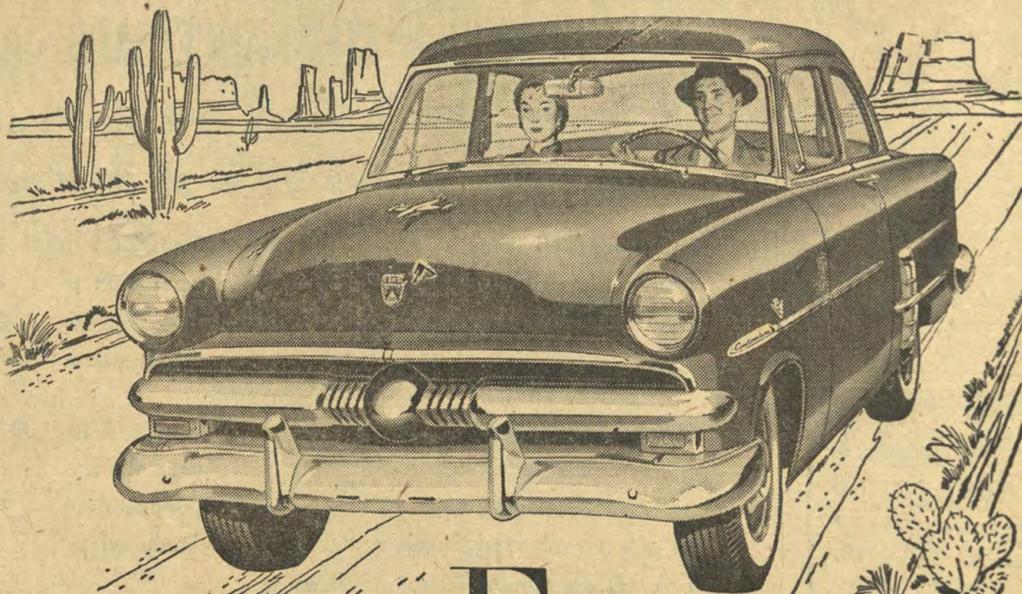

"Best buy" in power steering! Ford's Master-Guide (available on all V-8 models) supplies hydraulic "muscles"—automatically whenever you need them—to do the work of steering for you. All you do is guide the car. Makes all driving easier, and safer. And parking's so easy!

"Best buy" at the gas pumps! When you need to "fill 'er up", you do it the modern Ford way with Center-Fill Fueling. And Ford's Automatic Power Pilot gives you power to spare on a lean diet of regular gas.

"Best buy" on the road! The rougher the road the better your Ford likes it because Ford's new "ride" cuts front end road shock alone up to 80%... babies you over the bumps... and cuts sidesway on turns.

WORTH MORE WHEN YOU BUY IT...
WORTH MORE WHEN YOU SELL IT

By P. H. France
Spraying Cuts Losses From Tomato Blights

Spraying tomato plants with copper fungicides, or organic compounds such as zineb, manzate or captan, is the best insurance against crop losses from common leaf blight and fruit rot diseases. S. B. Fenne, plant pathologist at VPI, advises tomato growers not to wait until they see disease symptoms to begin spraying. Spraying is a preventive — not a cure.

Samples of diseased plants already are being received at VPI laboratories. Fenne says the warm, wet weather which has prevailed in Southwest Virginia is ideal for the spread of blight.

Plants need spraying about 30 days after the first blossoms appear, and every 7 to 10 days after that. In long periods of wet weather they will need more frequent treatment.

Numerous chemical formulas are now available for spraying tomatoes to reduce damage from early blight, septoria leaf spot, and late blight.

Sprays are usually more effective than dusts. They stick to plants better. If the fields are wet, however, dusts may be the only thing that can be applied effectively.

Management of Strawberry Runners Is Advised

Proper spacing of new strawberry runners is an important factor in production of high quality fruit, say horticulturists at VPI.

The easiest and most economical way to handle the new runner plants, which are now beginning to appear, is to let them root as they will until late August. Cultivation at the side of the rows will keep the runners from spreading out of the rows and into the middles.

Plants that become too thick may be dug out.

To get even distribution of plants in a row it is often desirable to train the new runners by moving them with a hoe to the space where the plants are needed. Where needed, a small clod or stone just back of the tip will keep it in place until rooted.

The best way to distribute the runners, say the horticulturists, is to train them in all directions, so that the mother plant is completely surrounded by new growth. Where a plant is missing, early runners from nearby plants may be trained into the empty space to fill the row. If the row is filled by late August with runner plants

Make Plans For Fall Pasture Seeding Now

Early planning for good pastures is being suggested for Virginia farmers by VPI agronomists.

Plans for fall pasture seedings should include selecting the field, having the soil tested, making arrangements to have lime and fertilizer on hand when needed, preparing land early, and selecting a pasture mixture which will provide abundant grazing.

After selecting the field, take a representative soil sample and send it to a soil testing laboratory for analysis. Take samples from several places in the same field, mix them together thoroughly, and send a pint sample of the mixed soil to the laboratory.

If part of the field has received different lime, fertilizer, or cropping treatments, or is a different soil type, mix these samples separately and send more than one sample for testing. Soil record sheets and cartons for sending samples to the VPI soil testing laboratory are available from my office or other professional agricultural workers.

Lime is important, the agronomists say. Apply enough to bring the pH to between 6.0 and 6.5, preferably 6.5. The nearer the pH is to 6.5 the longer it will be before liming is necessary again. Apply at least half the lime 30 days before seeding. If the soil is extremely acid, apply half the lime before plowing, then plow it down.

Most fields can profitably use 800 to 1,000 pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 2-12-12 or 5-10-10 for seedings of tall grass-ladino clover pastures. Seeding time is the only time fertilizer and lime can be worked deeply into the soil. Deep placement of lime and fertilizer will encourage deeper root development and the pasture will be better able to withstand short drought.

Early land preparation also is an important factor for good seedling growth. Plow or disc well before seeding, then disc again to destroy any plants or weeds that might cause seedling failure by competition. Early land preparation also allows the soil to settle and form a moist, firm seed bed which is essential to good seedling germination and growth.

Registration Still Being Received For Youth Camp

Want an inexpensive vacation—with fun and larnin' too?

Dr. W. E. Skelton, state 4-H agent at VPI, says registrations are still being received for the leadership training camp for young men and women at Camp Farrar, Virginia Beach, August 5-9.

The camp is sponsored by the VPI Agricultural Extension Service for rural young men and women between the ages of 18 and 30 years.

The program will include: general assemblies; vesper services and group recreation; classes in recreation, program planning, officer training, arts and handicrafts, and photography, swimming, fishing, athletics, and tours to points of interest.

Dr. Skelton says any young man or woman about 18 to 30 years old, whether members of an organization or not, may attend. Professional youth workers and adult advisors, or rural youth groups also are welcome.

The cost—$14 per person, including lodging, meals and insurance. If you are interested, get in touch with Miss Katherine T. Omohundro, home demonstration agent, or me.

Scottsville Continues Winning Streak, 38-1

Scottsville ball team continued its winning streak on Sunday by trouncing Buckingham 38-1 in five innings on the Scottsville diamond. The local team is at the top in the Tri-County League for the season, having lost only one game this year. They were beaten by Shipman last month.

The Scottsville nine will play Alberene on their diamond next Sunday.

Mrs. Mildred Pitts

Mrs. Mildred Pitts died at her home in Portsmouth Friday, July 24. She was the wife of Dr. R. Clayton Pitts, former pastor of Memorial Baptist Church in Columbia.

Besides her husband, who is now pastor of Port Norfolk Baptist Church in Portsmouth, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. William Jackson Tiller of Richmond; two sons, Cameron Cobb Pitts and R. Clayton Pitts, Jr. of Portsmouth, and two sisters, Mrs. John Flint Omohundro of Richmond and Mrs. Russell A. Joyce of Charlottesville.

Funeral services were held at 11 a.m. Monday at Port Norfolk Baptist Church. Burial was at 3 p.m. Monday in Upper King and Queen Baptist Church cemetery.

SENDING THE PEOPLE OF THE TOWN OF SCOTTSVILLE AND THE NEIGHBORING COMMUNITIES IN ALBEMARLE, FLUVANNA AND BUCKINGHAM COUNTIES

The Truce

The Korean armistice signed this week is being looked on by many with doubt. They tend to believe South Korean President Syngman Rhee's conviction that the truce is a Communist trap designed to get us to relax and open the way for a stronger and crippling attack.

Then there are those who believe that we never should have been in the Korean war in the first place. Of course, event they cannot deny that the U.N. stand against Red aggression is certain to make the Communist forces more reluctant to attack.

Despite the pros and cons about the truce, one thing is certain: the lives of Americans are being saved. And there can be nothing more important than that.

It's Fine To Be Fooled -Sometimes

Handy Peters entertained for the ladies of the Auxiliary the other night—and had the ladies believing for a while that he's the best marksman ever.

Handy put on a great act. He set up a whole bunch of balloons on a muslin backdrop and then took out his pea-shooter. He shot blindfolded, standing on his head, every which way—and broke a balloon every time!

No wonder Handy impressed the ladies. What they didn't know—till the show's end—was that Buck Mulligan was hiding behind the backdrop improving on Handy's aim with a hatpin.

From where I sit, we all get things "put over" on us now and again. When it's good-natured—fine! But, some folks would like to fool the rest of us into believing it's wrong to enjoy an occasional glass of beer—just because they prefer something else. For real American tolerance and neighborliness these people are simply "off target."

A. WILLIS ROBERTSON

VIRGINIANS ENLISTED FOR STUDY OF TRADE

Last week I enlisted the services of two outstanding Virginia businessmen in a study which I believe will be of real value to our national economy.

A resolution recently passed by the Senate authorized the Banking and Currency Committee to make a study of our international trade problems and particularly of the possibilities for expanding trade through operations of the Export-Import Bank and the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

This action was taken because of the realization that sound political relationships depend upon sound economic relationships and that international monetary stability is essential to international trade. It also was felt that we should determine what might be done to eliminate such barriers to trade as the taking over of plants without paying for them or refusal to allow profits to be sent out of a country.

In planning for this study our committee decided it would be helpful to have an advisory group of outstanding citizens who would represent farmers, labor, bankers and business, as well as economists and other specialists. Because of the important place which Virginia holds in the international tobacco trade, it was suggested that I nominate two members of the advisory group to represent tobacco interests.

I was able to obtain the consent of Berkeley Carrington of Dibrell Brothers, Inc. of Danville and W. Brooks George of Larus and Brother Company, Inc. of Richmond to give their services to the committee. They will assist in preparation of the report which will be made to the Senate next January, suggesting legislation that would be helpful in the promotion of international trade.

The Congressional Reorganization Act passed in 1946 designated July 31 as the normal date for adjournment of sessions of the Congress. This was done in recognition of the importance of allowing those who make the laws a reasonable part of each year to be spent in their own states, finding out what the people want and need.

This week the Senate will be holding day and night sessions trying to meet the adjournment deadline. There have been a few complaints about the legislative program, including one speech on the Senate Floor pointing out the high incidence of heart ailments among members and suggesting that the pace was a killing one, but most of us feel it is important to conclude this session promptly. We feel that the newly appointed department heads in the Executive Branch of the Government need from now until January, uninterrupted on their time and attention, to familiarize themselves with their duties and to prepare recommendations on which we can act next year. We also feel that we shall be in a better position to act wisely after obtaining the reaction of our home folks to some of the more controversial proposals which have been made by the President and his Administration.

Adjournment by August became a possibility last week when the majority leaders agreed to postpone some of the more controversial items which they previously had said must be passed before adjournment.

Ramblings

At last I am a success as an interior decorator, at least in the eyes of my son. After spending the last frantic hours before his return from camp in painting and "fixing up" his room, I have been rewarded with his remark, "It looks just as good as a hotel room"—his idea of heaven. Ugh.

It takes a will of iron and a child's blind faith and the optimism of a pollyanna to follow garden suggestions in mid-summer, while the same activities were a pleasure in the spring. Now is the time to "keep up spraying and dusting, plant late vegetables (our spring vegetables were too late), sow more perennials, water, fertilize, etc." It's more interesting to crunch around on the dry stubble of the early vegetables and watch for the foldfinch that comes around now and then to light on the tall blue chicory, and the pair of cardinals that fly in and out of the waxy green privet hedge.

should be added. The feelings of these Fluvanna farmers seemed to be summed up by this statement from one of them: "We don't want to get a penny more for our produce than it's worth; all we want is minimum protection against the disasters that we face which are beyond our control.

Family Reunion

A Family Reunion of the descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Herndon was held on Sunday, July 26, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Randolph Herndon, of Scottsville. The group enjoyed a picnic lunch which was served on the lawn of the Herndon home and a watermelon feast which was had later during the day. Special music was furnished during the afternoon by Cecil Carson, of Fuqua Springs, N. C., with Mrs. Herndon Wells at the piano.

Among the 60 persons who attended the reunion were Mrs. Sidna Wells, Percy Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. Herndon Wells and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wells, Jr. and family of Angier, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carson and family, of Fuqua Springs, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. John Deaton and Jack Wells of Raleigh, N. ## V.F.W. Presents

Post on its fine Post Home. Presentation of the U. S. flag was made by the Scottsville VFW Ladies Auxiliary by Mrs. David Glass to Thomas E. Bruce, mayor-elect of Scottsville. Other presentations included gifts to Department adjutant-quartermaster W. I. Wooddell from the present and past commanders of Scottsville Post No. 8169.

Following the joint opening session, the men retired to the school house for the meeting, the ladies remaining in the post home.

The district meeting was presided over by Dr. Moody, and roll call of posts showed six of the fourteen as being represented. Minutes of previous meetings were read and approved, and since a tenth district was recently formed along the line of the Congressional District established by the General Assembly, the tenth district having been formed from the northern section of the eighth, it was agreed that half of the funds in the former eighth district treasury would be divided with the newly formed District, that the eighth district would keep the district colors, and the U. S. Flag to be the property of the tenth. Fund raising activities were approved to provide additional funds for the district treasury. It was agreed that all money raised in the district would be divided equally with the Ladies Auxiliary.
